NEWS FROM ABROAD.

Terrible Atrocities by Turkish Troops.

Wounded Russians Tied to Trees and Roasted.

The New Sultan Invested with the Sword of Osman.

TURKEY.

LONDON, September 7.—The Times' correspondent at Belgrade telegraphs the following: Nothing is certainly known about what is passing in the neighborhood of Alexinatz, but there is a strong conviction here that another battle was fought on Monday. Some Russians who have just arrived from the front doubt this. They represent the Servian army as reduced to a mere mob. Some of the Russian surgeons are returning home.

A correspondent of the News says: Rumors of the Servians' demoralization and the disintegration of the Servian Morava army are circulating in consequence of hints dropped by Russians returning from the front. The officials here are dumb concerning the situation around Alexinatz.

The Standard's correspondent says seven Russian medical officers, who have arrived from Alexinatz, confirm the worst accounts of Friday's disaster. They say the Servians do not hold any position at Alexinatz, and confirm the report of the Turkish advance on Belgrade by way of Kragujevatz on the southeast of Montenegro.

The Turks cannonaded the whole line from Podgoritza to Spuss on Tuesday, creating the impression that a battle was progressing there. This proves to have been a feint, with the object of diverting the attention of the Montenegrins from Medun, which place they are investing, the Turks desiring to revictual it. They have not succeeded yet, and they must drive the Montenegrins from cliffs eighteen hundred feet high on either side of the gap in which Medun lies before they can revictual it. The result of the fighting in the northwest is still unknown.

LONDON, September 7.—There were a number of disturbing rumors from Berlin yesterday, but they were not confirmed from any other source, and it is believed had a stock jobbing origin. The opinion reported from Berlin to the Standard that an outbreak of a Russo-Turkish war was unavoidable is not entertained at other capitals. On the contrary, there seems to be growing confidence that the general peace of Europe will be maintained, however difficult may be the settlement of details between the Turks and insurgents. The Porte's refusal to grant an armistice is also unconfirmed, but it is thought not unlikely, and it is believed the result of such refusal would be an immediate resort to the formulation of terms of peace between Servia and Montenegro and Turkey, leaving the question of the insurrected provinces for subsequent settlement.

The Times' Vienna correspondent, discussing the negotiation between the powers, says with those who have been and still are for an armistice the idea of a conference for the regulation of all pending questions is gaining ground more and more. The idea was first started by France, and seems to find support with Italy and Russia, the latter, however, not wishing to take the initiative in the matter. Those who are for taking in hand the peace preliminaries simultaneously with an armistice do not encourage the idea of a conference, which is likely to delay instead expedite a settlement of the difficulty in making a programme for such a conference. The fixing of that programme would, they think, take more time than an agreement upon general principles of pacification, the details of which could easily be settled by the ambassadors in Constantinople in concert with the Porte. In the face of many difficulties which pacification may yet present, a reassuring thing is the unanimous wish of all powers for peace, and therefore a sincere desire to avoid anything which might lead to complications. As a sign of this, a communication made by Prince Gortschakoff at Warsaw is making the round of diplomatic circles. It was made in a way which would show it was meant to become known, and is reported as follows: "Russia wants, as yet, rest for a number of years, and then, besides, the Emperor is decided to have peace. So am I, and there is every ground to suppose the other powers are equally desirous to have it. At least to judge by their assurances we may reckon on their hearty co-operation with us in this direction."

CONSTANTINOPLE, September 7.—Abdul Hamid, the new Sultan, was to-day formally invested with the sword of Osman. All the ministers were present.

LONDON, September 8.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg states that the Porte, replying to representations of the European ambassadors in favor of peace, said in the present military situation an armistice was opposed to its interest. The Porte, however, at the same time held out hopes of the speedy proposal of conditions of peace.

LONDON, September 8.—A special correspondent of the Standard telegraphs from Belgrade the following: The Turks on Monday occupied the left bank of the Morava. Alexinatz is in their power. It is utterly deserted. The Servians at Delegrad are in no condition to take the field. The Turks committed atrocities during and after the battle of Friday. Hideous stories are told of rape and murder of wounded Russians tied to trees and roasted, and girls outraged and flayed alive. The roads are filled with thousands of fugitives. The Government talk of victories and keep the public in the dark about the danger which is threatening them. There is now no force between the Turks and Belgrade.

A telegram from Ragusa says intelligence has been received there from Slavonic sources that Dervish Pasha attacked Rogani, in the district of Peperi, on Wednesday, and was repulsed and driven over the river Maruco toward Podgoritza. The Turks have encamped at Zaslop, where they await reinforcements.

A dispatch from Belgrade says Minister Ristics, in a note touching Turkish cruelty in Servia, charges that forty-eight villages in the district of Alexinatz have been burned, that the Turks do not respect the Geneva Convention, and fire on ambulances as soon as the Red Cross is seen.

CHINA AND JAPAN.

HONG KONG, August 15—SHANGHAI, August 15.—The report of the massacre in Ning Knohfu is fully confirmed. The Roman Catholic church was destroyed, the officiating priest tortured and killed, his assistant torn to pieces, dead bodies taken from the graves and defiled, and hundreds of the congregation slain. The French Minister is taking active steps to secure the punishment of the guilty parties, among whom are numerous officials of rank. Several other assaults and murders of Christians have followed. Forty buildings were destroyed. The damage to property is estimated at sixty thousand dollars.

The difficulty with England continues unsettled. The authority recently granted by the Peking Government to Viceroy Shen of Nanking proves insufficient, and the British Minister having signified dissatisfaction, Viceroy Lehung Chang was appointed to confer. This latter official, however, postponed visiting Chifer, the place of meeting, and it is reported he is detained in Trensen by fear of violence from his own subordinates, who bitterly oppose submission to the British demands. The situation appears more critical daily. The forts are strongly reinforced and Peiho river obstructed.

The Chinese Government is greatly embarrassed by renewed revolts and intrigues of secret societies, and by the want of money, native bankers refusing to make further advances.

YOKOHAMA, August 23.—By order of the Government, most of the restriction upon travel to the ancient capital, Kioto, and vicinity, will be removed on September 1st.

The export duty upon Japanese paper is abolished.

The famous temple of Kamakura, near Yokohama, in decay for many years, is to be restored by the Government.

A Buddhist mission sailed from Yeddo for the Loo Choo islands.

Meeting of the U. S. Centennial Commission.

PHILADELPHIA, September 7.—In pursuance of adjournment, the United States Commission assembled in the rear apartment of Judges Hall at half past ten o'clock this morning. President Hawley in the chair. The calling of the roll showed that twenty-four States and Territories were represented, just a quorum, and no more. The business of the session was opened by reading the report of the Executive Committee. This document was quite voluminous, detailing all the questions discussed by the committee and acts performed by them since the former meetings of the Commission.

SOCIAL SCIENCE.

Yesterday's Proceedings of the Association—A Number of Important Papers Read.

SARATOGA, September 7.—The Social Science Association held two sessions to-day which were well attended and excited much interest. In the general session Mr. Sanborn presented a report on "The Cotton Industry of Fall River," showing its rapid growth, and the social conditions of poverty and ignorance by which it was accompanied. Dr. Davis, of Fall River, and Mr. Derby, of Boston, debated the question, and spoke favorably of the present prospects of the city.

Mr. Atkinson read a paper on "The production" and destruction of wealth," and Mr. Morse, of Boston, on "The relation of currency to prices." Both were warmly discussed by Prof. Sumner, Horace White, and others.

Charles Nordhoff read a paper on "The condition of the South, showing the ill effects of continual interference of the General Government with the colored race, contrasting the condition of affairs in Georgia favorably with that in some other States, where affairs are more influenced from Washington." This was debated and the views generally concurred in by E. Wright, Edward Atkinson, Geo. Bradford, Dr. Howe, and Prof. Sumner, of Yale College. The latter believed that we in the North should mind our own busines severally, and was opposed to interference by Federal politicians in the internal affairs of the Southern States.

In the Jurisprudence meeting, Professor Dwight read a paper on "Law Schools," and D. B. Eaton one by Prof. Von Holtzendorff, of Munich, on "Legal Education in Europe." These were debated by C. A. Peabody, of New York, L. L. Delafield, George Hoadley, of Ohio, J. M. Barnard, of Boston, and others.

In the evening the Conference of Charities joined the Social Science Association in debating Chinese immigration, the question being started in a letter read by Mr. Sanborn from F. B. Thwiber, of New York, who, while in San Francisco, made investigations. He instanced the falsity of many charges made against the Chinese, and seemed to view them favorably. Dr. A. Wells did not think the Chinese could assimilate with our people any more than the Latin or colored races, and that they would have in time to get out of our way. Prof. Sumner spoke briefly, and was followed by Mr. Linsley, of Oregon, who clearly favored the Chinese, and did not believe any attempt to modify the Burlingame treaty practicable. The Chinese are beginning to vote, and the question will be governed by that in time. Geo. Bradford, of Boston, held somewhat similar views.

POLITICAL RIOTS.

A Serious Disturbance in Charleston, S. C.—A Large Number of Persons Injured.

CHARLESTON, S. C., September 7.—A serious riot occurred late last night between colored Republicans on one side and colored Democrats and white men on the other. Pistols were freely used on both sides. The rioters held Kings street, the main thoroughfare, from midnight until sunrise, breaking windows, robbing stores and attacking and beating indiscriminately every white man who showed his face. A large number of persons were injured. Several of those shot are in a critical condition. Intense excitement prevails.

The Democrats Raise a Row at Stony Hollow, N. Y.

KINGSTON, N. Y., September 7.—The Republican campaign club of this city went to Stony Hollow yesterday to raise a pole. After the pole was raised the opposition pulled it down, which was a signal for a general scrimmage. Stones were thrown and pistols fired, and it is reported several men were shot, one of whom is dead. Several members of the Republican club from this city received severe wounds from stones, and one a pistol shot on the side of his head.

THE SIOUX COMMISSION.

Their Arrival at Red Cloud Agency—Poor Lo Afraid of the Large Number of Troops Present.

RED CLOUD AGENCY, NEB., September 6, VIA FORT LARAMIE, WY., September 7.—The Sioux Commission arrived here this afternoon, having left Fort Laramie on the 4th, with Captain Egan's cavalry company E as an escort. They saw no Indians on the way, and found everything quiet at the agency, which is in charge of Lieutenant Oetling. Gen. McKenzie, commander of the district, was present to receive the commission. He said he would aid it by every means in his power. There is quite a large military force here, and the Indians are in a depressed state of mind in consequence of the concentration of troops at the agency, and say they fear they are all to be massacred as soon as enough soldiers arrive. They hail the arrival of the commission as a means of relief. Twenty or thirty lodges left Red Cloud recently for Spotted Tail Agency through fear of danger here. The Commissioners are anxious to proceed with the council without delay, and will lose no time. But, of course, they cannot say now when the council will be held.

THE SOLDIERS' REUNION.

Fighting the Battles Over Again—The Reunion at Caldwell, Ohio—Telegram from Gov. Hayes.

COLUMBUS, O., September 7.—A special from Caldwell states that the Soldiers' National reunion closed to-day with a sham battle, participated in by one hundred veterans from the Dayton National Asylum, and good-bye speeches. The reunion has been a great success. The following telegram was received from Gov. Hayes:

"I regret that I shall not be able to attend the reunion of comrades of the Union army to be held at Caldwell. The services rendered by these men cannot be overestimated. They and their comrades served this nation and fought successfully the battle of freedom for all mankind. They and their work will ever be gratefully remembered and honored throughout the world.

[Signed] "R. B. HAYES."

An appropriate answer was forwarded to Gov. Hayes by order of the camp. It was decided to hold another reunion next year at Caldwell.

After the first fifty days one-fourth of a cent per bushel for storage every ten days or parts thereof.

The California Grangers.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 7.—The movements of Grangers to load wheat on farmers' account seem likely to prove a failure. Only one ship has been secured, and is not loaded. Freights have advanced from £2 12s 6d to £3. The grain ring recently offered $1.55 per cental, securing from twelve to fifteen thousand tons, and the Grangers weakened.

Allen, the Prize Fighter, Arrested.

CINCINNATI, September 7.—Two trains from the fight to-day arrived at Newport at 2:40. They were stopped by the authorities and Tom Allen arrested.

SECOND EDITION

CUSTER'S LAST BATTLE.

The Story of the Massacre as Told by an Eye Witness.

How an Ambuscade was Formed—The Indians Fighting with Military Precison—The Engagement Very Short—Six Prisoners Burred at the Stake—Reno's Fight.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., September 7.—The Pioneer Press and Tribune will to-morrow publish an interview with an old trapper named Ridgely, who has been a long time in the Yellowstone country, and claims to have witnessed Custer's massacre, being a prisoner in Sitting Bull's camp, and seeing every movement of the troops. He was taken prisoner last March, and kept in the camp ever since until the Custer massacre. He was treated kindly. He says Sitting Bull organized not to fight, but to drive the miners from the hills. Previous to Custer's attack mounted couriers from Sitting Bull's camp had for eighteen days watched his forces, its division into small detachments being noted with manifestations of extreme delight. Ambuscades were immediately prepared, and while the Indians stood ready for the attack, many of them clambered on the side of the hill overlooking Custer's line of march. The Indian camp was divided by a bluff, the point of which ran toward Rosebud and in the direction of one of the available fords on the river to the camp. By this ford Custer followed their trail down to the water's edge. There were but twenty-five "teepes" visible to Custer, but there were seventy-five double "teepes" behind the bluff not visible. Custer attacked the smaller village, and was immediately met by 1,500 or 2,000 Indians in regular order of battle. Every movement was made with military precision. Ridgely says he stood on the side of the hill, where he had a complete view of the battle, which was not over a mile and a half distant. Custer began the fight in a ravine near the ford and fully half his command seemed to be unhorsed at the first fire. Then the soldiers retreated towards him in the rear, and were shot down on the way with astonishing rapidity, the commanding officer falling from his horse in the middle of the engagement, which commenced at 11 o'clock A. M., and did not last more than forty-five minutes.

After the massacre of Custer's force the Indians returned to camp with six soldiers as prisoners and delerious with joy over their success. These six were tied to stakes at a wood pile in the village and were burned to death. While the flames were torturing them to death Indian boys fired hot arrows into their quivering flesh until they died. Sitting Bull was met after the fight, and he exultingly remarked he had "killed many soldiers and one damned General, but didn't know who he was." The squaws then armed themselves with knives, visited the battle field, robbed and mutilated the bodies of the soldiers.

While these soldiers were being burned the Indians turned their attention to a force, evidently Reno's, attacking the lower end of the village. Ridgely says Custer's command had been slaughtered before a shot was fired by Reno's force, attacking the lower end of the camp. Two Indians returned in the evening and said the men had fought like the devil, but Ridgely says they did not make a statement of their losses. They said the soldiers had been driven back twice, and then they piled up stones and the attack was unsuccessful. The prisoners were kept burning over an hour, but Ridgely was not permitted to speak to them, so he is unable to state who they were. One was noticeable from his small size and gray hair and whiskers. Reno killed more Indians than Custer, who fell in the midst of the fight, and two Captains, believed to be Gates and Kogh, were the last to die.

After the massacre the Indians were wild with delight. Many drank whisky stolen from whites, and the squaws performed the duty of guards for the prisoners, who were becoming drowsy. Ridgely and two companions escaped, securing ponies, and began a long journey homeward. The party ate game and laid in the woods four days to avoid Indians on the way. The horses tumbled, breaking Ridgely's arm, but the party finally reached Fort Abercrombie, and thence Ridgely came here. He describes Sitting Bull as a half-breed, of large size, very intelligent, with a peculiar gait.

RAID ON A BANK.

A Gang of Bold Robbers Foiled.

A Cashier Killed for Refusing to Open the Vault—The Assistant Cashier Wounded—Two of the Robbers Killed and One Wounded by Citizens.

ST. PAUL, MINN., September 7.—A Northfield (Minnesota) special to the Pioneer says about two o'clock this afternoon eight men, well mounted, entered the town, and proceeded to the bank. Three entered it and sprang over the counter, and ordered the cashier, J. L. Haywood, with a knife to his throat, to open the vault. At the same time all persons in the bank—A. E. Bunker, assistant cashier, and Frank Wilcox, clerk—were ordered to hold up their hands. Mr. Haywood refused to obey the orders to open the money vault. His neck had been slightly scratched with a knife. Still persisting, the robbers put the muzzle of a pistol to his right temple and fired. Haywood fell dead. They then turned to Mr. Bunker, and ordered him to open the vault. He said he did not know the combination. As the robbers made demonstrations towards him he ran out the back door. They fired at him, shooting him through the shoulder. Mr. Wilcox was not interfered with. While this was transpiring within people of the city without were doing good work. Two of the robbers were killed outright, and one wounded. The wounded man was taken away by his confederates. One of their horses was killed and one captured. The citizens of the city behaved like old veterans, as many of them are. The robbers did not get into the vault, nor did they find the cashier's drawer, except the nickel drawer, and a handful of nickels taken from it was thrown to the floor. Four of eight men came to the town before midday, and waited on the north side of the bridge until the other four came into town from Dundas, well mounted and armed with navy revolvers, with cartridges in a belt around their bodies, when the robbers crossed the bridge. Entering the town, they drew revolvers, and putting their horses into a full gallop, dashed through the streets, shouting to the people on the walks to get inside, and ornamenting their shouts with most fiendish curses and imprecations. While three men were engaged in the bank the others stood on the street, threatening to shoot any who interfered, and firing several shots, harmless. Pistols and guns were quickly secured by the citizens, and a young man named Wheeler from a window of an opposite building picked off one of the villains, shooting him through the heart. Another shot, thought to be from Wheeler, immediately after prostrated another, when the robbers mounted their horses and beat a retreat. A third robber was hit, but escaped. A band of fifty citizens was organized, and headed by Wheeler started in pursuit. At last accounts the robbers were only twenty-five minutes ahead of the pursuers, and are almost sure to be overtaken. There are all sorts of rumors as to the robbers, many believing them to be some of the gang heretofore operating in Missouri and Kansas.

GOV. HAYES' TAX RETURNS.

The Facts and Figures Which Refute a Slander.

How a Campaign Sensation is Spoiled—The Way Our Candidate Answers Charges Against his Integrity.

TOLEDO, O., September 7.—The Commercial to-morrow morning will contain a special telegram from Fremont, O., giving cards of Gen. R. P. Buckland, supported by affidavits, denying in toto the allegation that Gov. Hayes had defrauded in the tax returns in 1874, 1875, and 1876. The card first read as published in the Cincinnati Enquirer, and then says: Birchard in 1873 returned nine thousand dollars in money, not personal property, exclusive of credits, as stated in the dispatch, and nine hundred and eighty-two dollars in other property. In 1872 Birchard returned $10,000 in money and no credits. His banker states he knew he had no such an amount, therefore Hayes did not receive it, as was alleged. As to watches, the Governor says the card returns as published are incorrect. Governor Hayes never had a three hundred dollar watch, according to a statement of himself, and other members of the family have three watches, one worth one hundred dollars, and two others valuable only as keepsakes, worth not exceeding seventy dollars. The return for 1874 ought to have been and probably was for three watches. A piano dealer declares Hayes never owned a piano until May, 1876, when purchased at a cost of six hundred dollars. Concerning horses and carriages, the statement is made supported by the affidavit of the carriage manufacturer who sold Hayes one of them, that Hayes in 1874 owned a lumber wagon and buggy worth not to exceed seventy dollars, that in 1876 he owned a cutter and one horse wagon additional, the whole not worth more than one hundred and seventy dollars. In May, 1875, he purchased an old phaeton at a cost of fifty dollars, and also a new carriage at a cost of four hundred and seventy-five dollars, which in April, 1876, was not worth more than $300. An affidavit of the Assessor who listed the property in 1875 declares Hayes horses were three in number, one twenty-seven years old, one twenty, and the other a pony. The value of the three under a rule agreed upon by the Assessor was not over one hundred and seventy-five dollars. Yet Hayes fixed the value himself at three hundred dollars. As household goods in 1873, Birchard returned six hundred dollars. In 1874 Hayes returned one thousand dollars; in 1875 five thousand; in 1876 forty-five hundred. The increase in 1875 was owing to improvements in grounds and an addition to the library.

Mr. A. H. Miller, Cashier of the First National Bank of Fremont, states under oath that the only property left by Birchard, a decrease subject to taxation, was $1,154.32, money in bank, and from ten to fifteen thousand dollars in credits, contracts, notes, &c. His other personal property, which in 1873 was listed at nine hundred and twenty-eight dollars and bank stock, the taxes on which were regularly paid by the bank. In 1872 Birchard listed the credits at $10,000, and in 1873 at $9,600. The latter was entered incorrectly as money. Hayes became the owner of property at the death of an uncle, and all legacies became personal debts. He states that at no time since Birchard's death has Governor Hayes not owed more money than was owing to him.

THE SPORTING WORLD.

The Tom Allen-Goss Mill.

CINCINNATI, O., September 7.—After being dispersed by the militia, a second ring was formed a short distance below Walton, in Boone county. The Sheriff was present, but had not a sufficient posse to interfere. In the twenty-first round Goss fell and was struck by Allen while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed, and the fight decided in favor of Goss. Allen shows little or no injury about the face. Goss was terribly beaten. He is almost blind. The time of the fight was one hour and fifty-two minutes.

The Turf.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., September 7.—Goldsmith Maid won the open to all race to-day easily in three straight heats, Bodine second, Judge Fullerton third, and Smuggler fourth. Smuggler went to pieces near the beginning of the first heat, and rallied in vain. But in the second and third heats he gave promise of winning until the third quarter was reached, where he broke, and was brought to a stand still both times, barely escaping being distanced in the second heat. He made some wonderful bursts of speed during the race, but the result was generally anticipated. Summary—Open to all race; purse $4,000. Goldsmith Maid, 1, 1, 1; Bodine, 2, 3, 2; Judge Fullerton, 4, 2, 4; Smuggler, 3, 4, 3. Time 2:19½, 2:16¾, 2:22.

THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN.

Speech by Hon. Carl Schurz in Chicago.

CHICAGO, September 7.—At 8 o'clock to-night Hon. Carl Schurz commenced speaking in McCormick's Hall to an audience of about 3,000 Germans. His speech was listened to throughout with the most profound attention, and was frequently applauded. The various political organizations formed with torches and transparencies during the early part of the evening, and convening in their respective sections of the town, marched toward Cark and Madison streets, where, joining forces, they marched in one compact body north to North avenue, and thence deployed back. There were in the procession probably about five or six thousand men. In the vicinity of McCormick Hall the streets were crowded with foreign, German speaking and American citizens, who anticipated that Mr. Schurz would address some remarks to the crowd after his speech in the hall was concluded. In this, however, they were disappointed, as at the close of his speech he entered a carriage and drove to his hotel.

The Arkansas Election.

LITTLE ROCK, September 7.—The returns come in very slowly, but sufficient has been received to indicate that the entire State Democratic ticket has been elected by a large majority, while the Legislature and Senate will be almost entirely Democratic.

Congress of Inventors.

PHILADELPHIA, September 7.—A Congress of Inventors connected with the United States Patent Association was inaugurated at the hall of the Franklin Institute. The object of the meeting is the improvement of the patent system and the formation of an international association having reference to greater uniformity among the systems of the world. There were about twenty-five gentlemen present, including Hon. J. M. Thatcher, ex-United States Patent Commissioner; Prof. Hedrick, of the United States Patent Office; W. D. Dodge, of Washington, and John S. Perry, of Albany, N. Y., President of the Association.

A Swindler Arrested.

ST. LOUIS, September 7.—E. Mellor, a prominent jeweler of Montreal, who absconded from there about two months ago, after making away with his stock of goods, was arrested here to-day, together with his wife and mother, Mrs. Dennis, and Mr. Alex. McAlaish and his wife. Mellor has been here since Saturday last, and registered at the Planter's House under an assumed name. McAlaish and all the women were released after an examination, nothing being found against them; but Mellor will be held until a Montreal officer comes for him with the necessary papers to secure him, when he will be taken home. He had about $1,000 currency and bar gold, weighing some five hundred pennyweights, when arrested.

Lecture by Professor Huxley.

NASHVILLE, September 7.—By request of prominent citizens, Professor Huxley consented to deliver a lecture this evening at Mason's Theatre. Long before the appointed hour the house was packed with an eager audience. The Professor's remarks were a brief rehersal of his well known views on Creation, applying them directly to Tennessee. The lecture was about an hour in length, and was listened to by all the prominent theologians of the city, among whom it created a great stir. The Professor leaves for the east to-morrow.

Bank Suspension in Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, PA., September 7.—The City Bank of this city has suspended. Liabilities $350,000. It is thought the assets will entirely cover that amount. A majority of the depositors are laborers.

TNE VERMONT ELECTION.

No Show for Tilden in the Green Mountain State.

Returns from All but Nine Towns—Fairbanks' Majority thus far 24,685—Not a Democrat Elected to the Senate.

BOSTON, September 7.—Election returns from all but nine towns in the State of Vermont show Fairbanks' majority over Bingham 24,685. The same towns in 1874 gave Peck 19,950 majority over Bingham—a Republican gain of 4,735. The nine remaining towns in 1874 gave Peck over Bingham 263 majority. Fairbanks' majority in the entire State cannot be far from 25,000. The majority for Lieutenant Governor, Proctor will probably reach 26,000. The Legislature, as far as heard from, stands: House 196 Republicans, 30 Democrats, and 2 no choice. Thirteen towns to be heard from on the legislative vote gave in 1874 nine Republicans and four Democrats. The Senate has not a single Democrat. In 1874 there were fifty-nine Democrats in the House and one in the Senate.

Another Railroad at Auction.

ST. LOUIS, September 7.—The Atlantic & Pacific Railroad will be sold at public auction under the foreclosure of a mortgage to-morrow. It is understood Andrew Pierce, Jr., purchaser of the Missouri Pacific yesterday, will also buy this one, and the opinion prevails in railroad circles that these roads will be consolidated and operated under one management.

LOCAL POLITICAL NEWS.

The Grand Parade This Evening—Marshal Kennedy's General Orders—Notes of the Campaign, &c.

The absorbing topic in local politics is the grand torchlight parade which is to take place this evening. B. F. Kennedy, Esq., Chief Marshal of the First Division has issued the following order:

The Hayes and Wheeler club of Wilkinsburg completed its organization on Wednesday evening by the election of Jas Woodwell, President, and a long list of Vice Presidents; Robert W. Haven, Secretary, and Wm. Swisshelm, Treasury. The following committees were appointed: Meeting and Speakers—Wm. Swisshelm, Dr. J. Semple, J. D. Livingston, J. J. Walker, J. L. Ward. The marching club, one hundred strong, will be in line this evening, in full uniform.

The Republicans of the Ninth ward, Allegheny, held a meeting Tuesday evening and organized. Committees on Finance and Naturalization were appointed, after which the meeting adjourned to assemble at 7 o'clock to-morrow evening.

A Hayes and Wheeler Marching Glee Club was organized last evening at the headquarters of the colored Republicans of Allegheny. Officers were elected as follows: President and Instructor, S. A. Neale. Vice President, Geo. L. Taylor. Treasurer, Thos. H. Johnson. Secretary, Lewis Hamilton. Captain, D. L. Smallwood. Election of Lieutenants was postponed until next meeting. The club, already, numbers about forty of the leading young colored men of Allegheny. Two campaign choruses, composed by the instructor, are now on rehearsal and it is expected that some excellent singing will be done by this organization of young men, many of whom will in November cast their first vote for Hayes, Wheeler and the county ticket.

Lew. T. Brown, commander, announces that the Fourteenth ward marching club will assemble this evening at the Oakland school house at 7 o'clock sharp, fully equipped and wearing white gloves for parade.

Republican mass meetings will be held on Saturday evening, at the corner of Main street and Penn avenue, Sixteenth ward, and at Sandy Creek, Penn township.

The Republican Executive Committee meets this afternoon at two o'clock.

The Republicans of Millvale organized a Hayes and Wheeler club Wednesday evening, and elected the following officers: President, William Bateman; Vice President, B. F. Fellbaugh; Secretary, J. G. Riley; Treasurer, John J. Williams. Over fifty names were enrolled and the following elected as officers of the company: Captain, S. T. Johnson; First Lieutenant, B. F. Fellbaugh; Second Lieutenant, William Black. The marching club is a different organization from the Millvale Republican club. It numbers one hundred members.

The Republicans of the Second ward, Allegheny, have organized a grand Central Club with over one hundred men on the rolls. The following officers were elected: Captain, G. W. Boyd; First Lieutenant, John W. Jenkins; Second Lieutenant, Henry Jones; Third Lieutenant, Charles Francis. The club will meet next Tuesday evening at the school house. All colored men living in the Second ward are invited to be present.

The McKeesport Hayes and Wheeler club numbers 110 uniformed men, with the following officers: Captain, D. B. Jenkins; First Lieutenant, J. F. Davitt; Second Lieutenant, W. H. Moore; Third Lieutenant, S. H. Caruthers.

The preparations for the grand parade this evening are complete, and if the weather is favorable it will be one of the grandest displays ever known in this city for several years. The grand stand will be erected at the corner of Fifth avenue and Liberty streets, and the procession will move over the following route: Up Smithfield to Third avenue, thence to Ross street, to Fifth avenue, to Fulton street, to Wylie avenue, to Fifth aaenue again; thence to Market and thence to Liberty street, where the procession will be dismissed.

Marshal Walton Woolsey, of the Allegheny Division, reports the following additions to his staff: Joseph A. Dreller, Jas. A. McLaughlin, Wm. B. Frutchey, Robert McGonigle, Hugh McNeill, Henry Nesmith, James Wilson, Edward Yeager, John W. Kreps, Samuel B. Robinson and James Bradley.

The Allegheny Division will form for the parade this evening in the following order: Young Men's Republican club, Grand Central club, and ward clubs according to the number of the ward from which they come. All clubs east of Federal street will form on East Ohio street, right resting on Federal; all clubs west of Federal street will form on West Ohio street, right resting on Federal.

Major S. Foley, commanding the South Side division, has appointed the following staff: Robert Scott, Chief of Staff. C. T. Mustin, Adjutant General. Aids—Dr. J. Riggs, Dr. J. D Thomas, Edward Sprung, N. K. Miller, George Schaffer, C. Trautman, F. Valowe, D. E. Weaver, H. Patch, C. Ott, S. Ward, W. Ferguson, L. Aurin, J. Cline. The staff will meet this evening at Major Foley's corner of Fifteenth and Washington streets, at 6:45 P. M., precisely. The Division will form on Carson street, right resting at Monongahela bridge.

The Veteran Association of Allegheny held a meeting last night at the rooms of Young Men's Republican club, on Federal street. The report of the Committee on Rules, submitted by Mr. Stevenson, was adopted. From the Committee on Hall Major Tyson reported that the Association could have the use of the rooms in which this meeting was held by paying a small part of the expenses. The Committee on Uniform reported in favor of the adoption of the following: Dark pants and coat and white vest and gloves. This uniform was selected, and the choice of a hat was left to the judgment of the committee, as well as the style of the badge to be worn.

By invitation Gen. Daniel Leasure delivered an address in which he urged the men who fought for the perpetuation of the Union to rally to the support of that party which saved the country from destruction. He earnestly impressed the importance of thorough organization as essential to victory, also personal appeals to the wavering, and a strict attention to those little details of party organization that go so far toward securing victory. The General's remarks won warm applause and a vote of thanks.

The meeting then proceeded to elect a Marshal and three Assistant Marshals, with the following result: Marshal, W. S. Caldwell; Assistant Marshals, Thomas A. Armstrong, W. W. Barker and H. A. Miller. The position of Secretary having been made vacant by the removal of the gentleman previously chosen for that place, it was filled by the election of Mr. J. H. Stevenson. Messrs. Hay, Blakely, Barker, Caldwell and Henry were appointed a Committee on Transportation.

Mr. Caldwell offered a resolution providing that the organization be known as the Allegheny County Veteran Club. On motion of Mr. Stevenson the word county was stricken out, and then the resolution was adopted. An invitation to join was extended to all soldiers and sailors of Allegheny county.

After taking up a collection the Association adjourned to meet next Thursday night.

PROF. H. W. BANCROFT.

Action of the High School Faculty In Regard to His Death.

At a meeting of the High School Faculty yesterday, the following sentiments with respect to the death of Prof. Bancroft were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, Our beloved associate, Prof. H. W. Bancroft, has been called from earth, we, the Faculty of the High School, desire to give expression to the following sentiments:

The pupils have lost a friend who won their every heart by his spontaneous sympathy, and who held their esteem by his earnest interest in their advancement.

As a Faculty we mourn the loss of a member upon whose rare good judgment and cautious counsel we placed great reliance; an associate whose intercourse with us was always of the most genial and pleasant nature; a man whose influence was always ennobling, because he was actuated by unselfish motives, not seeking the applause of this world, but seeking to do well the work allotted him.

To the family of the deceased we desire to extend our heartfelt sympathy, with the hope that in their great sorrow they may still find full consolation.

C. B. WOOD,
Chairman of Committee.

—At the Saratoga Conference of Charities a suggestion of importance was made in respect to the inmates of insane asylums. It was proposed to give them employment, so as if possible to make them self-supporting. The experiment is well worth fair trial; and if in addition the cottage system could be substituted for the asylum, there would be a large increase of the recoveries from insanity.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 110.

A SEVERE disaster is reported to have happened to the Egyptian troops in Abyssinia. Fifteen hundred were slain.

THE Reading Railroad Company has determined to establish a line of steamers to Brazil, and the prospect is thought to be very flattering for a good trade.

THE city of Wilmington, Delaware, points to the victories in November, by electing a Republican council by a majority of 1,207. This city was Democratic last year, but this year falls in Republican line, as an earnest of the future success of the party.

DEMOCRATIC economy struck Democrats, here and there,—unintentional as this may have been. The failure to provide appropriations for the Judiciary Department has cut off, for the present, HENDERSON and BROADHEAD from the fees to which they were entitled.

THE Indians, who really attract very little attention, now, are believed by the military authorities to have broken up into small bands, most of them intending to reach the reservations and winter there, while SITTING BULL and his followers, if pressed, will cross over into Canada. No Indian fight is expected again this year.

ANOTHER brutal prize fight occurred yesterday, near Cincinnati, but not with the same serious results attending it as followed that in New Jersey. The man that was beaten worst was declared the victor, owing to the other having struck him when he was down. At best, these occasions are specimens of the worst form of brutality.

THE Post takes a single item out of the Vermont election returns, and attempts to figure out some consolation from it. It is very like its old dodge, of taking one township out of a State which had gone overwhelmingly against it, and pointing out a Democratic triumph in that township. There is no jubilation in the Democratic camp over Vermont.

THE Montenegrins do not partake of the demoralization that has fallen on the Servians, and are still besieging Medun, where a Turkish army is starving. Various efforts have been made to drive them off, or to distract their attention, but all have failed, and the death grip is on Medun. The Servians are reported to be completely demoralized since the battle of Alexinatz.

THE proposition to extend a narrow-gauge railroad from Castle Shannon to Waynesburg seems to us a very feasible and proper enterprise, and one deserving of attention and support. Roads of this character can be cheaply built, and are as effective for freight and travel as the wide-gauge roads. The Castle Shannon enterprise has been prosecuted with great energy, and if the same spirit shall characterize the new movement, it will prove a grand success.

THE unveiling of a bronze statue of LAFAYETTE, in New York city, carries the mind back to revolutionary times. The statue is the gift of the Republic of France, and is a worthy reminder of the good feeling of the young Republic, in this our Centennial era. The memory of LAFAYETTE is still tenderly cherished in France, and it is fitting that it should be equally cherished here. He was a devoted Republican, leaving his own land to fight in our battles, and during his life being ever consistant in his devotion to the cause. His memory is pure, and worthy of any honor that can be bestowed on it.

THERE are, in several large cities, severe controversies, just at present, between the people and the gas companies, relative to the prices charged. In Brooklyn and New York, they are starving out the companies, while in Chicago they are talking of resorting to oil lamps, if lower rates for gas are not given. Indeed, the City Council has passed a resolution, directing the Mayor, if the gas companies will not furnish gas at $1.50 per thousand feet, to discontinue all contracts, and light the city with oil. Private consumers have also demanded of the gas companies cheaper rates under the same penalties. The effect in the East, and the probable result in Chicago show that when the people rouse themselves, there is no danger of failure. Bottom prices are what are demanded now.

IT PROVES, on examination, taking even the New York World almanac as authority, that the Sun's statement of Republican majorities in Vermont are greatly exaggerated. All the best authorities, including the World almanac, give the Republican Gubernatorial majorities, during Presidential years, as follows: 1860, 20,230; 1864, 18,997; 1868, 27,226; 1872, 25,333, which is considerably below the generous figures conceded to us by the Sun. And, instead of an average of 27,000, which that sprightly journal gives us, it will be perceived that the Republicans have an average majority of about 23,000 in the four Presidential years above mentioned. The test, if we are to be submitted to such a test, will turn on a Republican majority for Governor of 23,000 in Vermont this year. This majority has been exceeded, even accepting the lowest comparison that can be made. Thus Vermont is anything but a comforter to the Democratic party.

WHILE the material situation of the Servian war undergoes but slight change from day to day, the moral and political phases are constantly and rapidly changing. The notification by England, of the Porte, that a refusal to permit an armistice would probably bring Russia into the field is a very significant circumstance. It implies that England will do nothing to help Turkey in such an event. With popular feeling so strongly excited as it now is, the Government in England could not support Turkey. The intimation that Austria would, in that event, oppose her armies to those of Russia, does not count for much, as Germany would very effectually offset that power. Russia, with the co-operation of Montenegro, Herzegovina, and Servia, would make it very hot for Turkey. Yet it must be said that the Turkish commanders have shown that they are not the effete warriors they were supposed to be. Their campaign against the Servians has developed great military skill, and strong fighting qualities. Their success at Alexinatz shows clearly that the Servians cannot contend against them. With the Russians it would be different. They are as vigorous fighters and have as able officers as the Turks and in an open campaign would be apt to make the fact apparent. Whether the adoption by Russia of the Servian cause would provoke a general European war is uncertain, although the danger that it would has perceptibly diminished of late.

THE authorities have agreed upon a plan and communicated it to General AUGUR, for the distribution of troops at the South. The necessity of this precaution has grown to be so urgent as to admit of no delay. In South Carolina the only way to reach the negroes is to hold large meetings at central points, for it is well understood that no Republican will be permitted to visit them upon the plantations. The Democratic white-liners have adopted a systematic course for breaking up Republican meetings by appearing on the ground in force and demanding a division of the time for speaking—an impudent, outrageous demand which they enforce by formidable arguments in the shape of gun-shots and revolvers. The object is to break up the meetings and frighten the negroes, and it never fails to result in this way. A company of soldiers stationed conveniently near would have a wholesome effect in convincing the Confederate bandits that the right to hold political meetings is not restricted to any particular party or shade of complexion. The same condition of affairs exists in many other sections of the South, and the order regulating the disposition of troops has been issued none too soon. If fair elections are to be held at all, it must be through the full and complete protection of the Republican element. Terrorism must be put aside, and will be.

THE New York press have been wailing very loudly over the effect of the competition in freight rates, urging that if the war is continued the New York roads will utterly break down and destroy the Pennsylvania lines. It is quite strange that they should talk in this way, as they are not in the habit of wasting sympathy or benevolence on the institutions of Pennsylvania. As to the argument that the New York Central can overwhelm the Pennsylvania Road, because it has four tracks, and is laid with steel rails, it is well to remark that the Pennsylvania Railroad is laid with steel rails; has always had a double track, and now has three tracks. But the truth is that there is really no sort of room for comparison between the Pennsylvania Railroad and any other trunk line. Its western terminal points are Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago; its seaboard points Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York. It commands all its connections and tributaries to all leading points, and has its own steamship lines and its own lake steamers. As for any combination of New York speculators to ruin it, that has been tried several times and has precipitated the absolute bankruptcy of the Erie Railroad and also that of the Erie Steam Transportation Company. All the newspaper attacks in the interest of New York will accomplish nothing more. Let the railroad war continue, if the only idea is to break our railroads.

THE RALLY TO-NIGHT.

The meeting this evening is the first general rally of the Republican forces in the present canvass. Much attention has been given to the work of organization, and we are of the opinion that Allegheny county was never better organized than it now is. The canvass has been quiet, but from careful observation we have reached the conclusion that our people have rarely been in a better or more hopeful mood than they now are. The current of influence, as regards the general ticket, is with us, and we are satisfied that HAYES and WHEELER will have a good, old-fashioned majority in Allegheny county. Not enough has developed with reference to local candidates for us to base an opinion on any demonstrations made. On general principles, however, we assume that the current evidently started for the national ticket will carry the local candidates along, even where their own strength would not otherwise be sufficient. But meetings have begun to be held, and will soon develop the relative strength of opposing candidates. In view of their influence in removing the prevailing sluggishness, we welcome the demonstration to-night as of large importance.

The speakers deserve an audience of the best stamp. Ex-Governor POLLOCK is one of our most brilliant orators, with a personal record of the best type. His address will be replete with most excellent oratory. Hon. WAYNE MCVEIGH has also made for himself a noble reputation as a lawyer and diplomatist, and as a forceful, and clear headed speaker. These with Hon. GEORGE LANDON will be the orators of the evening, and are capable of fairly and strongly setting before the people the truth, in its bearing on existing political issues. It is always desirable that the people should be fully instructed on these questions, and there is nothing better than the living voice for impressing truth on the mind. That the addresses to be delivered this evening will serve the purpose of clearly illustrating and enforcing right views, we do not entertain a moment's doubt.

We hope, therefore, there will be a noble rally, as the demonstration of itself will carry moral weight. It is always the case that the presence of numbers inspires enthusiasm. The turnout of the marching clubs alone will be inspiring, and their procession, escorting the speakers to the meeting, will be a brilliant affair. Added to these, however, should be the masses of the party, who are not engaged with the marching clubs. We are satisfied, however, that they will be on hand, and that the meeting will prove a grand success. With this meeting, the campaign in Allegheny county may be said to have taken on its active phase, and hereafter it will be steadily pushed with vigor and strength. There is wonderful power in the Republican organization of this county, and once it puts forth its full, united strength, nothing can withstand it. And this year of national election is the time for it to manifest itself.

CHARLES FRANCIS.

At last the Democracy have shown pity, and CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS is their candidate for Governor in Massachusetts. He would have preferred the Presidential nomination, but accepts, of course, the Governorship on the same principle that a friend of LINCOLN'S first wanted a foreign mission, and, not getting that, modified his claims till he concluded to be satisfied with a loan of twenty-five cents. It has been well understood for a long time that CHARLES FRANCIS has been anxious for a nomination of some kind, and by one party or the other. He has become restless, and wishes public life once more. His aspirations have been a standing joke among the press for more than a year past, the Springfield Republican being the only journal that earnestly and really advocated his claims. It, however, was more earnest and zealous than prudent, and overdid the business. The result is that CHARLES FRANCIS has come to be regarded as the chronic candidate, ready for anything that might come along. Just what strength this will give him remains to be seen, but we imagine that the canvass against him will have ridicule as an important element.

Aside from the somewhat ridiculous features of the nomination will be two serious facts, that will be strongly used against him. One is, his recent accession to the Democracy, and the probability that the nomination given him was the bait that controlled him. Mr. ADAMS has been somewhat retired from public life, for a long time, and in that period has not been particularly distinguished for activity in any department of life. The junior ADAMS has been prolific in magazine articles on railroad subjects. But CHARLES FRANCIS has been leading a life of dignified retirement, and was supposedly enough of a Republican for his organ to urge the Cincinnati Convention to make him its nominee for the Presidency. It was not done, but it shows that he must have grown fast to get into the Democratic ranks, and to be their candidate for Governor so soon. If the junior CHARLES FRANCIS could not be elected in that State, on the Democratic ticket, but a short time since there is little hope of the other now. In the second place the Irish people will not help him much. They regard him as an enemy, who once might at least have sympathized with their national cause, and helped such unfortunate Fenians as were in British toils, but coldly refused to do anything. We do not just know what strength there is in the Irish vote of Massachusetts, but think there is enough to make assurance doubly sure, so far as his election is concerned. Altogether, we congratulate the Democracy on the accession of CHARLES FRANCIS to the ranks, and are gratified that they should so promptly select him as their candidate for Governor. No one could be beaten more easily.

POLITICAL NOTES.

THE Republican outlook is excellent. Push on the column, boys.

THE drift in all the Northern States is toward the Republican party.

THE Democrats of Nevada have nominated an ex-rebel Colonel for Congress.

TILDEN looks ruefully at Vermont, and says this campaign is getting to be too aggressive.

ONE of Tilden's Southern papers, the Augusta (Ga.) Constitutionalist, pleasantly speaks of "a lot of bummers who call themselves 'Boys in Blue.'"

THE Democrats have lost their only Senator in Vermont and thirty of their sixty members of the House of Representatives, and they are talking about their "Gains."

NOW THAT the desperate invention in regard to Hayes' tax returns has been laid forever at rest, Mr. Tilden's silence becomes intensely conspicuous. His situation is very awkward; will he explain or withdraw?

EVERY Democrat thinks now that the practice of September elections is demoralizing. Vermont becomes a benighted State with a stationary population. In short, it's the third or fourth bad black eye of the campaign.

THERE are indications that an immediate, active and thorough canvass of Virginia by the Republicans would do much to win its votes for Hayes and Wheeler. By no means ought the Old Dominion to be given up without a struggle.

A MEMBER of Tilden's Vermont State Committee recently sent to the Democratic headquarters in Boston for a set of "Tilden and reform" songs, and had to send every one of them back, as they were all adapted to the Southern market.

THE Republican nominee for Superintendent of Public Schools in Iowa thinks the Democratic money plank should have read: "We are in favor of resumption, but since resumption is a hindrance to resumption, therefore we should not resume."

THE lively dread which the Democrats exhibit at the prospect of the reassembling of their Convention in New York is almost pathetic. "Let there be harmony," "Do not let Governor Seymour's declination bring any confusion," they are all tremblingly crying.

NEW ORLEANS Bulletin: During these soft summer afternoon, whilst a sepia haze seems to rest over the city, the dreamy stillness of the back alley is broken now and again as some errand newsboy exclaims, in excited tones: "Patsy, I'll chuck nickels wid yer," and yet it is contended that the Republican party is for reform.

THIS, from the Louisville Courier-Journal of Saturday, is simply exquisite: "That neither Governor Tilden nor Governor Hendricks went about during the war denouncing the Southern people is only proof that they were brave and intelligent gentlemen, who knew that victories were not won by such means, and who felt that too much fierceness was out of place in men who were out of danger."

EX-SENATOR LAFYETTE L. FOSTER, now on the Supreme bench of Connecticut, who was a supporter of Mr. Greeley in 1872, and a Democratic candidate for Congress last year, recently summed up his views in this way: I would much rather see a Republican President of firmness, intelligence, and integrity elected than Governor Tilden; and I believe that Governor Hayes possesses those qualities."

BY the reception which the leading organ of the Democracy at Baltimore has given to the Attorney General's letter, the Republicans have new weapons put in their hands for the present campaign. It will not be hard to rouse the old war feeling at the North, while the Southern newspapers threaten a display of force, and call for the enrollment of "minute men." If the fire eaters supply grist for the outrage mill, there will be no difficulty in turning its wheels.—N. Y. Tribune.

THE Democrats of DesMoines, Iowa, nominated Mr. D. A. Kent for County Clerk, but he declines, refusing longer to act with that party because (among other reasons) the voice of the Northern Democrats echoes everywhere in defense of Southern outlaws and in excuse of their crimes, and because the ex-rebels are using every effort to secure the payment for the loss of property destroyed on account of their disloyalty and treason to the Government, and taxing the property of dead soldiers to reimburse the traitor who killed him.

THE Express protests that Gov. Seymour did not use the words, "My Friends" to address the rioters in 1863, but rather to address the men trying to preserve the peace. Why then did he tell them to disperse and go home, that he had sent his adjutant-general to Washington, and was going to stop this draft? Democrats must not be surprised now at the general overhauling of war records in the State. So long as they insist on nominating people who were identified with the history of their party during the war they must expect the old hostility to flame out. Old issues ought to be put out of sight, but it cannot be done by forcing forward the men who made them.

THE Republican Administration, by the negotiation of 300 million of bonds at 4½ per cent. to take up an equal amount at six per cents. has accomplished a vastly greater saving than all that has been done by the Confederate House. This has come about through keeping the public faith in the face of the persistent efforts of the Democratic party to break it. And it was done against the opposition of the Confederate House. For there was an ambiguity in the laws, by which there was a question how large an amount of 4½ per cents. was authorized. Mr. Bristow referred this to Congress, to settle the matter by a declaratory act. The Senate acted, but the House refused. Secretary Morrill had to take the responsibility of interposing the law. Thus this great annual saving, by the reduction of the interest on 300 millions from 6 to 4½ per cent., was accomplished against Democratic resistance.

Two Much for Him.

Having plenty of apples and pears, but having no dog, says the Free Press, a resident of Cass avenue stuffed an old suit of clothes and stood the effigy up in his back yard to scare the wicked boys away. The plan seemed to be perfection for a while, but yesterday morning the "man" was discovered suspended to the limb of a tree by a rope tied to his heels. The coat tails were cut off, the mouth filled with weeds and the eyes and ears with mud, and the following note was pinned to the body:

"This 'ere feller has got the kolic offul bad."

The big bell pears and the rosy red apples had been thinned out until they looked like an off-year for crops, and the boys were far away.

THE OLD TIMES AND THE NEW.

An Eloquent Letter from Fred. Douglass.

Fred. Douglass has never penned more eloquent sentences than the following contained in a letter to Col. Forney, and now just published:

Hon. J. W. Forney:

MY DEAR SIR: I am very much obliged to you, or some other friendly hand, for a copy of your circular letter of the 1st of August. You have in your circular taken us back to the state of facts twenty years ago, when the Pathfinder, John C. Fremont, was the centre, around which clustered the best aspirations of the American people for order, liberty and justice; but where are we now? The fight was then between slavery and freedom, with wrath and fire, knives and pistols on one side, and with temperate zeal, kindness, good-will, but fixed purpose, on the other side. Has the nature of this conflict between the great Republican party and the Democratic party in any wise changed in its essential character? Not a bit of it. Though the great war for the Union has come and gone, though three hundred thousand youthful and loyal hearts have been drained of their warm blood and now rest in peace beneath the sod, and the country still staggers under a debt equal to a mountain of gold; though slavery, the source and mainspring of nearly all our national calalamities, has been abolished; though in the whirlwind of the reconstruction of our war-shattered Republic we have been able to write "Liberty, Justice, and Equality" over the gateway of the Constitution of the United States, we are still practically in the same old conflict; and parties are arranged and related to each other precisely as twenty years ago. Buchanan was no fitter representative of the slave power than Tilden is now, and Fremont then gathered to himself the better elements of the American people no more than Rutherford B. Hayes does now. With ever-varying forms, features, and phases, the conflict remains the same, and must, from the very nature of human nature itself, remain the same. Men cannot change their principles and prejudices as they change their shirts. Four years ago the Democracy undertook to play the "angel of light," and took up one of the oldest and stoutest Republicans for its standard-bearer. The trick was laughably transparent, and the Democrats have shown their loathing and disgust at it by utterly renouncing it in the nomination of Tilden and Hendricks. These men represent the Democratic party. Around them clusters all the hopes of defeated rebellion and slavery. They represent what Horace Greeley disguised and misrepresented.

When you sternly arraigned Buchanan for his broken promises, and did your best to keep out of the dark and treacherous hands of the slave power, the special object of that power was to strengthen itself by extension, and the particular measure had in view was to make Kansas a slave State; but now it is said there is no slavery to extend, and hence the whole subject of slavery is a dead issue.

A greater mistake than this, stupidity itself could not well commit. To make it a man has to shut his eyes to all that is going on about him as well as to all rational conceptions of the nature of human thought and feeling. It does not require that murder and rapine shall rage at the South to convince thoughtful men that the spirit of slavemastery is still abroad there. It need not come, as it does come to all Southern Republican meetings, on horseback, with arms in its hands and bullets in its pockets to awe the timid and shoot down the brave. We know that constituted as human nature is, that time and events alone can banish the desire of the white-master class of the South to continue their mastery over their former slaves.

Now, as ever, the contest is, liberty and civilization on the one hand, and slavery and barbarism on the other, and I rejoice that your able pen and historic journal are doing their share towards a righteous and glorious result. A vote for Tilden and Hendricks will be a vote to hold up the bloody hands and promote the lawless sway of disguised and undisguised mobocrats and murderers. A negro's life was never sacred in the eyes of slavemasters. It was always a question of loss or gain whether he should be shot down or permitted to live; and it is with this old slaveholding idea that the Government of this country has to contend. Every vote for Rutherford B. Hayes is a vote in favor of the sacredness of human life and for the maintenance of law and order against the thinly-disguised barbarism of the South. Very truly yours,

FREDERICK DOUGLASS.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2, 1876.

ETIQUETTE IN STREET CARS.

A Question Relating to Legs—A Leg-itimate Inquiry.

A correspondent of a morning paper demands that something shall be done to compel persons who ride in horse cars to refrain from crossing their legs. The writer thinks "it ought to be made the imperative duty of conductors to make such fellows place their feet squarely upon the floor, and in case of refusal eject them from the car." It seems to us that this is carrying the demand for the discipline of the horse-car passenger a little too far. We admit that the man who squirts tobacco juice should be suppressed; that the idiot who smokes upon the front platform should be kicked off; that the woman who will not move up should be pushed along by force; that the man who places his wet umbrella against his neighbor's dry leg should be carried away by the police; that the person who comes fresh from a saloon to fill the air of the car with the perfume of mixed drinks should be asked to step down and out; and that the driver who hurls picturesque and voluble profanity at the drayman who is upon the track ahead of him should be discharged. But the man who crosses his legs, certainly deserves a little more consideration. Mr. Story once made a great statue, the legs of which crossed because the sculptor held that such an arrangement of them indicated power. Now, if a free American citizen wants to indicate power by crossing his legs, what right has anybody to stop him? Or suppose that he merely desires to make himself comfortable (for crossing of the legs is comfortable) or to hold his cane, why shouldn't he be permitted to do so? Of course if he is a long legged man and his boots thus are projected clear over to the other side of the car, he interferes with the rights of others, and this might properly provoke protest. But the men who do this are few; for even a long man, who is conscientious, when he crosses his legs will fold the end of the top leg away out of sight and reach, at the cost, perhaps, of some pain. The only thing that is needed, in our opinion, is that the car companies shall place upon the car floor loops of rails, upon which the hanging foot can catch itself and keep out of the way. Then men can can cross their legs in peace, and the long man will give no more offense than the short person whose foot does not extend to the middle of the aisle.

DINING COMFORTABLY.

A Few Suggestions for Gentle Housewives.

Most people are aware, even without any scientific knowledge, that the mind has a most direct influence on the stomach, that the stomach reacts on the mind, and that the two linked mysteriously together act and react one upon the other with unfailing certainty. Digestion thus obviously to a great extent will depend on the state of mind in which we sit down to a meal. It is not sufficient always merely to set the bread-winner down to a good dinner. If he has been hard at work, battling during the day with the perplexities and difficulties inseparable from daily life, in whatever calling, his meal, if it is to do him all the good it should, must be a cheerful one; and it is as much a part of a loving wife's duty to meet him with smiles and pleasant words as it is to give him his soup hot and his meat cooked to a turn. Nay, although disappointment in the quality of the viands—a tough steak, a tepid sole—will check much more than is thought the process of digestion, even when spirits are good and appetite keen, it will not be so prejudicial to the healthful assimilation of food as will be dolorous tales of domestic care or the announcement of bad news. Whatever trials and sorrows have to be faced, dinner time and the time immediately succeeding is not the time to grapple with them, or dwell upon the means by which they are to be surmounted. Again, highly animated discussions, lapsing often into virulent arguments, are distinctly prejudicial at meal time; for temper, if ruffled, will retard digestion as fatally as damped spirits will. In a word, there is no byway to health more directly useful and generally worth sticking to than that by which we can have our meals in peace and comfort if not in absolute gayety.

The Difference.

She tramped upon a peach skin, kicked a fly off her ear, sat down gracefully upon the sidewalk, blushed, got up and walked off as if she had sat down upon a sofa in a parlor. If she had been a man, and tramped upon that peach skin, he would have kicked an awning down, snatched at the cornice of a four-story house, turned three or four handsprings, busted his trousers, come down on his hat, rolled over into the gutter, got up with his nose bleeding and his elbow skinned, his watch broken, walked off limping, said "curse the luck," and went home and sent for a doctor.

Roulette in the Black Hills.

"Round the wheel spins again. Make your game, gentlemen. All down—no more? The game is made. Twenty-six, and the red wins."

We lost two dollars and fifty cents on the first spin.

"Round she turns again, gentlemen. Come down—be in time. All down—all done? Twenty-one, and the black wins."

We lost two trade dollars on this turn.

"Away she sails again, gentlemen. Make your bets before the wheel stops. All said—all down? The game is made. Single 0 wins."

On this sail we were minus four gold dollars.

"Once more she flies. Be in time, gentlemen—down with the dust. No more? The bets are made. Eighteen, and the black wins."

On this fly we lost just three dollars.

"Away she goes again. Down with your ducats—be in time before she stops. The game is made. Twelve, and the black wins."

On this go we left five dollars on the eagle bird.

"Away she trots again. Even betting on the black and red. Down with your dust, be in time. The game is made. No more, gentlemen. Twenty-seven, and the red wins."

On this trot the man at the wheel raked in one dollar and a half.

"Away she skips once more. Here's a chance to win a barrel of 'greens.' Get in before she stops, gentlemen. All done—all down? The game is made. Seven, and the red wins."

On this skip we left two dollars and fifty cents for the skipper.

"Round she waltzes once more. Gentlemen, make your bets; be in time; come down. The game is made. No more? Nineteen, and the red wins."

This dance cost us four dollars and fifty cents.

"Away she walks again, gentlemen. All down—all done—all said? The game is made. No more, gentlemen, single 0 wins."

This walk cost us our last five dollar note, and having had enough of the wheel, we walked off. But for two weeks we could hear ringing in our ears, "Make your game. Down with the bets. All down—all done? The game is made. No more, gentlemen."

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, September 8, 1876.

The stormy character of the weather for the past few days has seriously affected the extent of business, and caused both banks and business houses to have very dull times. The offerings of paper at the banks were comparatively few and meagre in amount. The business public seem to be keeping their line of goods within the limits of their own capital, and therefore seldom call on their bankers for discount. The rate as usual to customers is 8@10 per cent. All really good paper is gladly accepted by the banks.

The real estate market seems likely to be entirely unaffected during the summer and fall. It is simply dull and dead. Occasional pieces of real estate are sold, the prices depending on the needs of the buyer, more than the demand of the seller. In business, real estate, and the banks are having a season of quiet that is anything but enjoyable. In general business, a hopeful, confident feeling prevails.

THE RAID OF THE "BEARS."

The large profits made by the "bears" in the heavy decline of the past few weeks in the coal stocks has encouraged them to attack the general list, and particularly stocks which have at times held in high estimation by investors and are now largely in their possession. Without doubt, says the New York Evening Post, the shock which the fall in such a stock as New Jersey Central gives to investors prepares the way for indiscriminate speculative attacks on other securities which they hold. Speculators have this advantage, that while they can organize for attack, investors are not in a position to combine for defence, and they are accordingly at a great disadvantage. If any of their number can be frightened into selling, and the work of frightening some at least is not difficult, then there is sufficient inducement for speculators to make bear raids, and it makes little difference whether the attacks are justified by the condition of the companies whose stocks are singled out or not. The present contest is clearly drawn between investors and speculators. Without doubt some of the stocks which have been held in high investment estimation have not deserved to be so held; but, as said, it is not a question of whether a company is sound or not, so much as whether those who hold its securities can be successfully raided. This tendency to raid will probably continue until some of the speculators now on the bear side see that larger profits can be made by turning on their confederates and frightening the large "short interest" into covering. Instead of an investors' panic we shall then have a bear panic.

"A WORD TO THE WISE."

Speaking of the evidences of a revival of trade, the United States Economist throws out this hint: It is exceedingly pleasant to be able to report such a healthy and legitimate demand for merchandise, for, though the general tone of the market is improved, buyers are still cautious in their operations, and are not to be influenced by any probable advance in prices. Here let us say that, while the market shows a growing activity, manufacturers and agents are cautioned against chilling the movement by any hasty change in prices or trying to squeeze the uttermost farthing out of an article simply because of a sudden and sharp demand. What is most needed is a steadiness in prices that will enable jobbers and retailers to make money in distributing their goods, and thus be induced to take more, while the endeavor, or placing of goods at a price inconsistent with the views of distributors, will witness them so hastening sales and deferring purchases that will compel a revision of prices to the disgust of all and the loss of not a few. Hence we argue it is much better to have goods scarce at a small profit than in accumulation at a price that cannot be realized but to a small extent.

BETTER DEMAND FOR LOANS.

While we are not authorized by actual transactions on the street to advance our quoted rates for money it can no longer be denied that a better feeling is apparent in almost all business walks, and that an increased demand for money at an early day is probable. The amount of money offering is large, but there is less disposition on the part of the banks and saving funds to submit to the low rates which have ruled so long. The banks are now having a moderately active demand from their customers, which they are generally accommodating. Call loans at 4@6 per cent., strictly first class two name paper at 5@5½ per cent., strictly first class single name paper at 5@6 per cent., loans on Government collateral at 4 per cent., first class bonds and stocks at 5@5½ per cent., on second class bonds and stocks 6@8 per cent. These rates have reference to what is conceded as reliable paper.—Philadelphia Ledger, Sept. 6.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, September 7, 1876.

Trade continues to gain slowly from day to day in nearly all departments, and while the improvement is not as rapid as could be desired by any means it is healthy and legitimate. There are indications of an increased consumption of goods in the interior of the country, and as stocks, especially of Pittsburgh manufactures, are light, both in first and second hands, there is reason to expect an increased demand. We can report an increased trade in most of the leading articles of merchandise during the past week, but no important changes in values.

APPLES—Supply in hands of commission men is light, but farmers are now bringing in almost enough to meet the demand; we continue to quote in a jobbing way at $1a1,50 ₩ bbl for fair to choice.

BROOM CORN—Sales of Hurl Corn in small lots, upon arrival, at prices ranging from 7a8½c, as to quality. Short or medium brush in fair stock and demand light; sales in a small way at 5½a6½c, as to quality and quantity. Insiding and inferior Corn very dull. Some lots offered at 4½—find no sale. Crooked in light demand at 3a3½c.

BERRIES—Are about out of season; we continue to quote at 50a75c per bucket.

BUTTER—Is coming forward more freely, but for prime table Butter there is a steady demand and prices are fully sustained; there has been some inquiry within the past day or two for common grades by eastern buyers, and the supply of this kind, which was steadily accumulating, is being reduced; 20a23c for prime to choice solid packed in firkins; 24a25c for do. roll and 28a30 for creamery. Common packed, 9a12½c.

BROOMS—The demand is brisk at the recent decline, and manufacturers report plenty of orders. We quote "Union" factory as follows:

No 1 Hurl—plain handle	$1,50
No 2 Hurl do	1,75
No 3 Hurl—painted	2,00
No 4 Hurl do	2,50

CORDAGE AND ROPE—There is no improvement to report in the demand for this class of goods, and no change in prices, which we annex as follows:

CHEESE—There is an increasing demand and the market is firmer, but unchanged; prime Ohio Factory, 8½c to the trade, and 1c additional in a jobbing way.

DRIED FRUIT—There is no demand whatever for domestic and very little for foreign; prices are nominal.

EGGS—The receipts continue light, and with a limited supply and an increasing demand prices are advancing; we now quote fresh stock at 19a20c.

FLOUR—There is a continued steady local trade in old standard brands, but both dealers and consumers are disposed to look upon new with apprehension. There is an active movement reported in New York, especially in brands suited to the export interest and prices are reported stronger, with restricted offerings. Choice old spring wheat flours are held with considerable tenacity at full prices, which may be attributed to the fact that the spring wheat crop of this year is reported short in yield and inferior in quality as compared with 1875.

FEATHERS—Sales job lots, 57; repacked, 60a63.

GROCERIES—Coffee is still reported steady with an increasing demand, and the position of the market statistically is favorable to holders. Stocks in hands of importers were largely reduced during August; in New York, the stock August 1st was 194,451 bags, and September 1st, 70,026 bags. There is a continued steady demand for Sugars, but the market for refined goods is easier; reliable advices from the east, yesterday reported a decline of an ⅛ on refineds. The demand east is not turning out as brisk this month as expected, which is attributed in part to the failure of the peach crop, but we apprehend that the masses are not putting as much fruit this year as usual, in consequence of the general depression in business. The stock of prime N. O. Molasses in this market is small and it is held firmly at quotations. There is a fair business in Teas, Rice and Spices, but no recent change in prices.

The Oat market continues strong with a supply scarcely equal to the demand, and prices still have an upward tendency; quoted on track, at 33a34c, for good mixed, and 35a36 for white. As stated in our last, it is thought the receipts will increase after farmers get through seeding. The stock of Corn in this market continues light, but there is not much inquiry, and dealers generally report the market dull, although there has been no recent decline; Ear Corn on track, 50a52; Shelled, 52a54, the outside figure for prime Yellow. Rye continues quiet, receipts light, but there appears to be but little inquiry; quotable at 58a60c. There has been no movement in Barley as yet, and we omit quotations.

CATTLE.

As will be seen, the run of through stock was somewhat larger than that of the preceding week, but of local stock there was a very decided falling off (62 cars), and with a light supply and an active demand, which was stimulated by favorable advices from all points, trade was unusually active, and that, too, at a sharp advance in prices. There is no question but the market this week was the best sellers have had for several months; it opened brisk on Monday, and from then up to the present writing the demand was in excess of the supply, cattle sold just about as fast as they arrived; in some instances before they were unloaded or out of the chutes, and sellers had no difficulty in realizing an advance of 25 a40c per cwt, according to grade.

There was a good demand, both for Philadelphia and New York, and the offerings of the character suitable for those markets was unequal to the demand; but few of the regular eastern buyers were able to obtain all they wanted, even at the advance. There were quite a number of droves of fair to prime shipping cattle sold at prices ranging from 5a5½c, and 1 extra drove (from Southern Ohio) brought 5¾c—averaged about 1,600 lbs. Stock cattle were also in fair demand and light supply, and they, too, taking quality into consideration, brought better prices. There was not a single bunch of Texans on sale that we could hear of.

It is feared that the very decided improvement this week will lead to an oversupply and bad market next week; moreover, it is said that there is no scarcity of cattle in the west, and that recently owners have been holding back in consequence of the very hard markets.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The market for this class of stock has also been considerably better this week; with a supply scarcely equal to the demand trade was active, and, that too, at an advance of from 15 to 25c per cwt. The medium grades brought more of an advance than the best, as there was more inquiry for the former than the latter, but all grades sold more readily and at better prices than last week. The demand for Jersey ewes was not as brisk as it was a few weeks ago, and scalawag stock was slow, as it nearly always is, but holders had no difficulty in disposing of common to best fat sheep at full prices, notwithstanding the receipts were somewhat in excess of those of the preceding week.

HOGS.

With an increased supply and scarcely an average demand, the market has been draggy all week, and prices weak and drooping. As compared with yesterday, prices were 20a25c lower to-day, and the market dull at the decline; shippers, for some reason or other, bought very sparingly, probably they expected to buy still cheaper to-morrow.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, September 7, 1876.

The Crude market was quiet, with but little change in prices as compared with Wednesday. United certificates were quoted this P. M. at $3,91¼ and immediate shipment at $3,97½a4. Operators appear to be holding off for the report of the guaging committee, which, it is understood, will be made public to-morrow or the day following.

Refined was reported firmer in tone to-day, although business continues quiet; Philadelphia and Baltimore delivery, held in first hands, at 26c. Price to home trade here, unchanged at 23.

Oil Barrels in steady demand but unchanged; countries, $1,30; city make, $1,45a1,50, as to size.

THE WOOL TRADE.

New York.

Matters remain much the same in a general way as noted for some time past. Holders are all in a more or less confident mood, and none would be willing to urge business, while for pretty much every description of stock full rates are insisted upon, and occasionally the effort is to infuse a little buoyancy. Still, at ruling rates reached, there appears to be a little difficulty experienced in working up quite as much enthusiasm among buyers as was noted last month. Manufacturers who possessed the means and standing to anticipate their wants did so before the advance took place, and the call now for consumption is more cautious, both as to cost and in the selection of quality, while a careful survey of the outlook on goods induces the belief that it will not do to depend too much upon a restoration of a continuous good fall trade. It is also claimed that a considerable amount of the excitement and buoyancy on wool has been due to sales ahead by dealers at all the leading seaboard distributive markets and that some of the most extensive purchases were simply in the way of supplies required to cover contracts on which sellers were short. Still there is a perceptible absence of certain desirable grades of wool, and while owners will take a fair market rate for their stocks they do not feel that it will be necessary to shade much to get rid of them. Fleeces are scarce, especially the fine grades, and a further advance is asked on the best selections. Texas and California grades continue in good favor and the desirable portion of the spring clip of the latter is much reduced. Colored wools attract fair attention, and in parcels which have been carefully prepared the return to the grower is remunerative. Foreign clothing wools remain scarce and are more or less nominal, but importers are watching the market closely on the impression that domestics may advance sufficiently to allow them to come in. Foreign carpet wools are neglected and comparatively cheap, but with a small stock on hand holders are rather inclined to firmness.—Bulletin.

Philadelphia.

Supplies from the West are diminishing, and the stock is considerably less than at this period last year. All kinds of fleeces are in steady request, but the demand is not so pressing as a few weeks ago. The firm tone of the market at the West still continues, and the prices are relatively higher than at the seaboard. About 1,200,000 lbs sold at the following prices: Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia fleeces—XX and above, 40a42c; X, 40a41c; ½-blood, 40c; ¼-blood, 36c; fine unwashed, 23a24; medium unwashed, 29a30c. Combing—washed fleece, 47a50; unwashed fleece, 35a36. New York, Michigan and Wisconsin—XX and above, 35a37; X, 34a35; ½-blood, 36a37; ¼-blood, 35c. Illinois, Iowa, and Minnesota—Full blood fleece, 33a35c; ¾-blood fleece, 33a35c; ½-blood, 35a36; ¼-blood, 34a35c; common fleeces, 30c. Domestic pulled—city merino, 35a36c; city super, 35a36; city lambs, 32a35c; city short merino, 22c. Canada fleece, 60c.—Press.

The Wheat Supply.

The New York Produce Exchange Weekly says: The crop of 1875 was probably much larger than the estimate of 246,000,000 bu and was probably 265,000,000 to 272,000,000 bu. The acreage of the crop 1876 was larger than that of 1875. California held more surplus this year than last. The United States and Canada will probably have to spare, of the crop of 1876, and crops of previous years, 75,000,000 bu.

The spring-wheat crop of Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, and Nebraska, is estimated to be about two-thirds of last year's crop, but the wheat is generally of better quality than last year, and has been harvested in fine condition.

It is thought that the new crop of spring wheat will move slowly out of the growers' hands at the present ruling prices. There appears to be a considerable amount of wheat of the crops of 1874 and 1875 still remaining in the hands of farmers or speculators for a rise. The winter-wheat crop east of the Rocky Mountains, it is expected, will not come up to the average yield of previous years.

Spain has harvested an abundant wheat crop in 1876, said to be the best in many years. The Russian wheat crop will probably be a full average one, with a probable average surplus of 50,000,000 bu for export.

The importing countries will have of home-grown wheat enough to carry consumption well along into the cereal year 1876-'7. If the exporting countries shall force their surplus wheat on Europe faster than it shall be needed values cannot continue below the average of previous years. However much the wants of Europe may be during the next twelve months, a comparatively small proportion of the whole wants will be required during the first half of that period.

RIVER NEWS.

State of the Rivers, Movements of Steamboats, &c.

THE river rose a couple of inches yesterday, and with continued rains the indications are favorable for more water. However, it will require a good deal of rain to put the river in a navigable condition, as the water is very low. There has been considerable rain in the west recently, and possibly the storm is coming this way.

THE towboat Veteran is laid up at Rochester.

WASH ROBB, the pilot, "ain't dead but liveth."

THE hull of the new towboat, Fair Play, will soon be ready to launch.

THE Frank Willard is to run on opposite days to the Jas. E. Rankin.

COM. KOUNTZ is expected back from St. Louis within the next day or two.

THE Fanchon is plying in the packet trade between Wheeling and Cincinnati.

PILOT BARNEY GIVEN is said to bear a striking resemblance to "Sitting Bull," the Indian chief.

THE Clarksville is running in the New Orleans, Yazoo, and Tallahatchie trade, commanded by Capt. Lee.

THE Upper Mississippi is reported rising from Keokuk down, and the Illinois was rising rapidly at last accounts.

THE great James Howard, with the old and favorite crew on board, will leave Memphis for New Orleans on September 27, on her first trip in the cotton trade.

THE Western arrived at Yankton on August 31st, from above, with 25 passengers and a quantity of freight. She was expected to start up the river in a day or two.

LUMBERMEN will be interested in knowing that a rise of 12 feet is reported at Black river Falls, Wis., and that the forty millions of logs that were back on Black river are now being successfully driven in.

THE Evansville Courier, of Saturday says: The officers of the Arkansas Belle report 4 to 5 feet hence to Cairo, Cumberland dam being the worst place in the business. She tried to come up the Kentucky side of the island, but only found 2½ feet, and went back, coming up over the dam, where there was only 4 feet.

THE wrecking boat, Salvor, will finish taking the Hannibal, Mo., bridge span out of the river, this week, when she will commence to work on the wreck of the Dictator. The Bridge Company pay $5,000 to the owners of the Salvor for taking the span out. Twenty-five hands have been employed on the work two weeks, and another week will be required to finish the work.

A CORRESPONDENT of the New Orleans Times, writing under date of Aug. 28, says: The jetties are admitted here to be a great success, and there is no longer any opposition to them that amounts to anything. Capt. Eads may have been too sanguine—he is a very sanguine man—concerning the time when his work would render the pass safely and easily navigable, but he will come far inside of his contract, and that is entirely satisfactory. The least depth between the jetties is now twenty-one feet, and the least width of this depth 160 feet, and the channel is continually deepening and widening. The work at the bed of the passes is progressing favorably, giving increased volume and force to the water that pours through the jetty channel.

HOME NEWS.

The probabilities for to-day are rising barometer, southwest winds, warmer, partly cloudy weather.

COLONEL INGERSOLL.

A special dispatch, sent us by Hon. JAMES G. BLAINE, and which appears in our news columns, announces that Colonel ROBERT G. INGERSOLL, the brilliant Western orator, will speak in this city on Friday evening of next week. We communicate this intelligence with great pleasure to our Republican friends, and urge them to prepare to give him a rousing reception. He is the Prince of political orators, and carries with him all the fire and enthusiasm of the West, with the refinement and culture of the East. The Executive Committee should see, not only that a fitting reception is accorded him, but that a suitable place is secured, so that the vast numbers anxious to hear him may have a fair opportunity to be gratified.

ALLEGHENY STREETS.

Approval of Bills and Pay Rolls—A Bad Road in the Eleventh Ward.

The failure to get a quorum last night prevented a formal disposal of the business that was to have been submitted to the Allegheny Street Committee. The only members present were Messrs. McRoberts, Golden, Wall and Hartman. Bills to the amount of $4,339 99 were ordered to be paid. These included the pay-rolls of the Eastern and Western districts, footing up respectfully $1,847 40 and $1,513 39. The balance in the appropriation is $7,557.29, and as there is no prospect of the committee getting any assistance from the Sinking Fund the necessity of economy in the use of what is left is apparent. No unnecessary or doubtful improvements should meet with any encouragement. A property-owner who resides on the Verner road, in the Eleventh ward, from Verner station to Wylie avenue, addressed the members present concerning the vital importance of putting that ward in passable condition before the advent of winter. He said that unless it was improved to some extent the city would unquestionably ere long become the defendant in a suit for damages. As a quorum was not present nothing could be done but lend a listening ear to the gentleman's complaint.

"SPIEL MARKS" AGAIN.

The Fool Killer or the United States Authorities Needed.

Notwithstanding all that has been published in the newspapers in regard to "spiel marks," there are still persons in the universe who do not know them when they see them.

A reporter of the GAZETTE in his poking around in different haunts in search of news learned that a man about six feet in height, with full black beard and mustache, dark clothes and sack coat, and black slouch hat, had tried once of twice in the evening to pass "spiel marks" for gold. To corroborate the information received, the reporter sought a certain house not more than a thousand miles from City Hall. There he learned that the identical individual had been in there and offered a spiel mark in payment of his bill. The proprietress not appreciating gold (?) refused to take it. He then went ostensibly with the purpose of getting it "changed." In about twenty minutes he came back, and stating that he could not get the change, insisted that the money was good, and that the landlady should take it. This she positively refused to do, and paper money had to be put up by the man, under the pressure of circumstances induced by his return. Whether or not he was really a greenhorn who believed the "speil mark" to be money, or whether he was one of those rascally mortals who make their living by practicing on the credulity of greenhorns, the reporter is unable to state. If the former, he is to be pitied for his loss. If the latter he should have a term in the whip factory.

A NEW TRICK.

How Base Ball Clubs Get Money Without Playing.

The Allegheny and Neshannock clubs commenced their game of ball at Union Park yesterday afternoon but, having got the money of the spectators, they failed to finish it. Many of those who paid the price of admission to witness the game are liberal and strong in their denunciations of the manner in which they were swindled out of their cash. A placard above the ticket-office window announced that no money would be refunded after the game had been called, and all who paid to get in did so with that understanding. About four hundred spectators were present—equivalent to $100. It was raining when the clubs commenced to play. They played one inning, at the end of which the score stood 2 to 0 in favor of the Alleghenys, and then they quit. The rain soon ceased to fall, and in a few minutes the sun showed its face, but the clubs declined to resume the game and the spectators were obliged to depart without having received an equivolant for their money. It is alleged and, under the circumstances, we believe it to be true, that the first inning was played for no other purpose than to get an excuse for not refunding the admittance fees. If the audience was willing to sit in the rain and watch the game, it was the duty of the clubs to continue playing, no matter if the water fell in barrels full. On the whole, yesterday's game, bears a marvelous resemblance to a downright swindle, and if future contests cannot be conducted on a more honest basis the public should refuse to patronize them altogether.

ANOTHER ROW.

A Fifth Avenue "Pretty Waiter Girl" Lays Out an Individual Who "Insulted" Her.

Yesterday morning the GAZETTE contained the particulars of a first class beer glass row that occurred in the White House saloon, where the "lady waiters" are wont to disport. Last night what might have proved a similar occurrence was nipped in the bud.

A Mr. Everson, who is not unknown to local fame, entered the establishment in question and took a seat at one of the tables. He was waited upon by one of the girls who answers to the euphonious title of "Little Emma," though whether or not the qualifying and designating adjective is one to which the girl is entitled on account of her size the writer knows, not. At any rate, Mr. Everson took several glasses of beer, and finally at some remark of his the girl took offense, and grabbing up a beer glass let Mr. E. have it over his head, stretching him out upon the floor in an insensible condition—a circumstance that rather indicates she is not so "little." Mr. Everson laid there for two or three minutes before he returned to consciousness, but when he did, he let all around know that he had some life about him. Grabbing a lot of beer glasses, he let them fly without any regard whatever as to where they struck. He was immediately overpowered and quietly conveyed up stairs, and a surgeon sent for to dress the frightful gash on his head, from which the blood was flowing in a stream not to be despised, saturating him with gore.

"Little Emma" gave as a reason for striking Mr. Everson that he had insulted her, and it not being especially desirable to have either him or her arrested, the matter was kept as quiet as possible, no information being given of the affair to the police. It is simply another of those lively episodes that are to be expected in "lady waiter" saloons.

After having his wound dressed, Mr. Everson was quietly taken home.

THIS EVENING'S WEDDING.

The Marriage Ceremony at the Exposition—All the Arrangements Complete—The Programme—Two Valuable New Paintings En Route.

The most interesting feature of the Exposition this week will be the North German wedding ceremony to-night. Miss S. W. Lyons will finish the bridal bonnet to-day, and Mr. Grabowsky the hat for the bridegroom. At precisely eight o'clock this evening the bridal party will leave the home cottage, headed by the Great Western Band, playing Mendelssohn's wedding march. It will pass through Power Hall, attended by bridesmaids and grooms, twelve each, and all dressed in National costume. Children will strew the pathway with flowers. The procession will pass into the main building and ascend to the top of the restaurant stairs where the bridal platform, profusely and beautifully decorated with flowers, is erected, and there the marriage will take place. At the conclusion of the ceremony the spectators will be notified that it is at an end by a flight of Mongolfiese balloons. The bridal party will remain in the building during the evening. The contracting parties are Mr. Richard Lyck and Miss Lizzie Hennig. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Mr. Muelder. On Saturday at noon and during the remainder of the day the bride and groom will receive their friends at the cottage, where the marriage will be celebrated in strict accordance with North German customs. The prospective bride is a modest, neat, nice looking young lady, and the groom that is to be is a man of fine appearance, handsome and intelligent. Prof. Harry Gilbert, the aeronaut, will officiate as Master of Ceremonies.

The managers of the Exposition have received notice that the two great paintings, "Jerusalem as it was," and "Jerusalem as it is," have been shipped to them. They are valued at $35,000 and are said to be the finest works of art ever seen in Pittsburgh.

Notice.—For some time past many of our customers have been disappointed in not getting what French bread they wanted at our retail department, No. 18 Fifth avenue. We have increased our facilities and will endeavor here after to have a full supply for all.

Court Brevities.

THE will of Sallie Murphy was filed for probate in the Register's office yesterday. The deceased died in the Allegheny Poor House. The will is dated December 27, 1875, and the executors are Superintendent T. F. Grubbs and Robert D. McGonnigle, Secretary of the Allegheny Poor Board.

ABOUT twenty Assessors made their returns to the County Commissioners yesterday, in obedience to the decision of Judge Pearson fixing the 6th of September as the last day for registering voters. The Commishoners declined to accept them, and sent the Assessors back to their polls to register to-day.

THE Grand Jury yesterday returned a true bill in the case of William Thoman, who is charged with the murder of Aug. Kohlman, in Allegheny, last spring. There is no testimony, so far as we have been able to learn, against Thoman, except what has been published, and no theory other than that advanced by the newspapers of the city on the morning after the murder.

MR. JACOB DRESSEL, a juror in the Criminal Court, was two minutes and a half behind time yesterday when Court convened, after a twenty minutes recess, and the Judge imposed a fine of three dollars on him. Mr. Dressel takes the matter in excellent humor, and says that it reminds him of his schoolboy days, when the "Master" would impose a task upon the scholars for being late, the length or severity of the task depending upon the time lost.

THE KEYSTONE DAY.

Pennsylvania's Day at the Centennial—The Committee of Arrangements.

The Governor having set apart Thursday, the 28th inst., as Pennsylvania's day at the Centennial Exhibition, in which to demonstrate through meetings and addresses on the Centennial grounds, the history, resources, and capabilities of the Keystone State, the following Committee of Arrangements has been appointed by the Pennsylvania Centennial management:

Hon. Henry Rawle, chairman; D. J. Morrell, of Cambria; Foster W. Mitchell, of Franklin; David A. Nagle, of Philadelphia; Wm. H. Graham, of Allegheny, with Chairman McMichael and Governor Hartranft as members ex officio.

The committee have held a preliminary meeting and have issued a circular setting forth the objects of the gathering, and announcing that the Governor has selected Hon. Benj. Harris Brewster, as orator on the occasion. A committee has been appointed to arrange the details, and the assurance of the Centennial Commission has been given that the great show will be as complete and attractive in every feature on that day as it is possible to make it. The railroad companies have all agreed to furnish ample facilities for carrying all who desire to attend at reduced rates. The day set apart is the one hundredth anniversary of the signing of our first State Constitution.

Among the members of the committee of arrangements we observe the name of Mr. W. H. Graham, of Allegheny City. Mr. Graham was a member of the last House of Representatives, and a most efficient one, and his appointment on this committee is not only a high compliment to a deserving man, but it is an evidence that his worth has been appreciated by those high in authority.

A SHARP YOUNG SCAMP.

Robbed the Mayor, Sold the Marshall and Cheated the Conductor.

The Youngstown Tribune is responsible for this story: "On Friday of last week $30.00 in money was stolen from the safe in the store of Mayor Stewart of Mineral Ridge. A boy named Mathews, about 14 years of age, was suspected, and the Marshal went in search of him. He was soon found playing with a number of other boys and told by the Marshal that Stewart wanted to see him. The boy said: 'All right, you go on up to the store I'll be right along and meet you there in a few minutes.' As soon as the Marshal had turned the corner he obtained his brother's coat saying: 'Mr. Stewart wants to see me,' took down a back road and the last heard of him he was at the Austintown station. He boarded a train there for Leetonia. When the conductor came along for his fare he began to cry, said he had a sister sick in Pittsburgh and wanted to go and see her, that he had no money to pay his fare with, &c. The kind conductor told him to wipe his eyes and ride on. The conductor afterwards learned that his sorrowful young passenger bought a ticket for Pittsburgh and started on the next train.

THE LEAFY TABERNACLE.

Progress of the Meeting at Hollow Rock—The Interest Unabated.

HOLLOW ROCK, September 6, 1876.

The pulpit was filled last night by Rev. Manchester, of Wheeling, and in a good, strong voice, well modulated, he interested his audience with one of his most thrilling efforts; he is still young, and if divines, like wine, improve with age, we may look and hope for some great and good work for years to come.

At the close of the service the Mourners' bench was well filled, and intense enthusiasm prevailed; it was hard to tell who was most in earnest—the repentant or the clergy. They have hung their banners on the outer wall, and seem determined to drive the enemy from the field.

The batteries of the speakers yesterday were trained upon the church members, and many well directed broadsides were thrown into the church that were much needed, and may prove a worthy benefit—in fact they mean entire sanctification and not so much shoddy.

The anti-deluvian idea that a church member can drink whisky and keep the community in a constant broil by and with his unadulterated meanness, is of the things that were and the clergy, as well as all true reformers, have determined to root it out. The typo's made a mistake in printing the name of Rev. James M. Bray. Mr. Bray is the oldest man in the conference, and we are in hopes of hearing through the press in some shape, his long life experience in the wild wood evangelizing.

Dr. Miller preached this morning at usual hour—and to say he preached fills the bill. Comments would be superfluous and out of order.

Justification, sanctification, "holiness unto the Lord" was his theme and those that do not know him may ask who is Dr. Miller? Why he is the great exponent of the new light in Methodism—sanctification.

Dr. Miller closed the morning exercises and a more energetic evidence of faith in Christ was never evidenced on this ground—the last shot and shell thrown into the camp of old fogy and dead-and-alive Christianity was perfectly astounding and the speaker became so entirely carried away with his feelings that the word eloquence was meaningless and the audience felt and sympathised with him.

1 P. M.—Temperance meeting at main stand. Brown, of Alliance, Baggs, of Wheeling, and others took a bold stand for the temperance cause and the time was well used. Our old friend Detective "Bob" Love gave us a little of his experience in and out of the whisky ring, and is an earnest worker in the cause.

Meeting closed by prayer by Dr. Ball, of Wheeling.

2 P. M.—Dr. Bell, of Wheeling, preached. The Doctor's style is of the highest in pulpit oratory and his discourse was strong, Orthodoxy and fully up to the standard in all that relates to a No. 1 sermon. Reasoning, logical, argumentative, and was delivered in a strong, clear voice and was listened to with attention.

I notice among the recent arrivals the "Boy Preacher," James Thoburn, of your city.

The rain is coming down gently at 3 P. M. and will create a "wet blanket" for many. H.

3 o'clock P. M.—Young folks' meeting at old Tabernacle.

Thoburn occupied the time allotted to him in a fluent, persuasive, feeling manner, and long he will be remembered and appreciated as the "boy preacher" at the Centennial campmeeting at Hollow Rock.

Capt. Baggs, in a well-timed address, held the audience spellbound.

HOLLOW ROCK, September 7.—A deep interest was felt in prayer and experience meeting.

10 A. M.—Rev. Gladhil of Wellsburg, W. Va., occupied the pulpit this morning.

Rev. Lainman closed in a few well timed remarks and in a feeling manner that told on the audience. At the speakers request that all those that were at the first camp meeting held on this ground arise—20 was all that appeared at roll call, the ballance have closed their accounts and passed on to another world.

As an instance how the old clergymen are treated, our well known old divine Father McCall, on Sunday was given the tabernacle of the young folks, to hold forth to his many admirers and expectation was on tiptoe to listen to the good old patriarch. And this was the result: Fifty-three attentive listeners under the canvass that has a seated capacity of 1,200

The question is frequently asked who and what is the "Boy Preacher." Having failed in the modern style of "procuring knowledge under difficulties" interviewing, I took the next-best course, check, and from a reliable source find the subject of our remarks to be twenty years of age, a printer by trade, a Christian by profession and the nephew of Drs. Watkins, Mills and Thoburn, with a recommendation to the conference for an appointment where, in the new sphere the world will hear from him, and unless his health fails, the scroll of fame will receive one more name.

The Hollow Rock Camp Meeting has proved an entire success, which is evident from the fact that they have leased and will immediately fence an addition to the grounds, making 14 acres in all, and hereafter will take a small contribution at the gates, sufficient to pay current expenses.

As this has been termed the "Poor Man's" camp ground, it is proposed to charge only a small fee—say a dime or less, to the entire meeting of whatever length of time it may continue. The audience is reduced to five hundred.

1 P. M.—Young folks' meeting at tabernacle—a very earnest appeal to the unconverted, and as the meeting draws to a close the interest deepens.

2 o'clock, P. M.—Service conducted by Rev. Kendig, of Florence, Pa. Several hundred participated.

The entire audience were in favor of inviting the State Association to meet here next year.

A contribution was taken up, and more funds raised than required to meet the indebtedness. H.

PERSONAL.

Bishop Jesse T. Peck will preach this evening (Friday), in Trinty M. E. church, Rev. W. P. Turner pastor.

Andy Mason, who has charge of the Western Union Telegraph office, at the East End Stock Yards, left for Chicago yesterday.

The reception which was to have been given to Bishop Peck in the Emory M. E. church, East End, this evening, has been postponed until to-morrow evening.

Bishop Simpson and wife spent yesterday among friends in this city. The Bishop starts this morning for Buffalo, where he is to dedicate a church on Sunday.

Mr. John Davison, chief clerk to the general agent of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad Co., accompanied by his wife, left for Philadelphia on Wednesday. After taking in the Centennial Mr. and Mrs. D. will proceed to the New England States where they will spend several weeks.

Messrs. Ralph Richardson, the County Recorder, a leading Republican and strong supporter of Russell Errett, and Robert Liddell, Captain of the Democratic host, and Mr. Hopkins' main support in that ward, left yesterday for a two weeks stay at the Centennial. It has required about two months to arrange the trip satisfactorily, as these gentlemen know each other in politics and one was afraid to go from town without taking the other along, fearful that the one remaining at home would get some political advantage. They will doubtless enjoy themselves and rest contented, being together. If, however, Bob should come home to-morrow Ralph would follow on the next train and vice versa. Both gentlemen have their families with them.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

ALDERMAN KREUTER yesterday committed H. C. Newman to jail in default of bail in the sum of $500 for a hearing to-day on a charge of embezzlement. He is charged with selling goods on commission and failing to account for the proceeds.

THE parties who were arrested for creating the disturbance in the White House saloon Wednesday night were yesterday before the Mayor. Merriman and Lester were fined five dollars each and costs, and Seibold and Carter were discharged.

JOSEPH POORMAN, an ex-policeman, made information before Alderman Salisbury, yesterday, charging John Richardson with assault and battery. He alleges that the defendant struck him in the mouth with his fist and loosened several of his teeth. A warrant was issued.

JOHN or George Bell was arrested in a skiff on the Monongahela river, on Wednesday night, with about $300 worth of heavy rope, used on steamboats, in his possession. It was subsequently learned that the cables were stolen from the tow boat Eagle. Bell will have a hearing this afternoon at four o'clock.

WM. GRAY was sent to jail yesterday by Alderman Edgar, of Allegheny, for ten days, in default of the payment of a fine of $10, for threatening to disembowel Anthony Kennedy, Chief of the Exposition police. Gray became disorderly in the building, and when ordered to leave he intimated that he would let out the officer's entrails.

SARAH BURNS, a colored woman, and a boy, her son, were arrested yesterday in a barber shop on Penn avenue, charged with stealing $400 from an old man from the country. The evidence not being sufficient to hold them, they were discharged. The man who alleges that he lost that amount was arrested for drunkenness night before last.

THE promise he gave to love, cherish and protect has evidently been forgotten by Thomas Morgan, of West Diamond street, Allegheny. His wife, Sarah Morgan, in an information before Alderman Edgar, says that he has deserted her without cause or provocation, and does refuse to contribute to her support. The Magistrate issued a warrant.

ALDERMAN D. L. SMITH, of Allegheny, delivered a lecture last night in his back office to a select audience. He talked like a Dutch uncle to Annie Golden, who is charged with having instituted prosecutions for the purpose of making money. Promising to abandon the habit she was discharged. Annie is an English lass and not bad looking.

A WARRANT was issued by Alderman Hoerr yesterday for the arrest of Andrew Sander, ex-Secretary of the Improvement Building and Loan Association, on a charge of larceny as bailee, on oath of F. Schuler, President of the Association. It is alleged that Sander, after acting in the capacity for four years past, tendered his resignation on August 25th, which was promptly accepted. Notwithstanding frequent demands have since been made for the books and papers in his possession, he has refused or failed to return them, and hence the action.

C. KRAUSE, a good sized newsboy, was let off yesterday by Alderman Edgar, of Allegheny, on payment of the costs in a suit for assault and battery. Leon Cohen, the news agent at the West Penn depot, sent a boy to take a package of papers across Federal street to the Fort Wayne depot. When the lad got outside Krause caught him, slammed him in the gutter and damaged the papers. That was the cause of the suit.

MANUFACTURING NOTES.

Notes of Interest to Iron Workers.

THE Apollo mill of Rogers & Burchfield is advertised for sale on the 20th inst.

THE Pittsburgh Forge and Iron Works have been running double turn since the 1st inst.

THE glass works of Doyle & Co., which have been closed for some time, started up again on Monday.

DURING August, Lewis, Olliver & Phillips' works turned out 2,000,000 bolts of various sizes and varieties.

KIER BROS., owing to the demand for their Salina fire brick, have increased the capacity of their works, adding one more kiln, and are running full.

THE Soho foundry of H. A. Freyvogle is doing considerable in iron fronts. Some very handsome patterns can be seen at this establishment in the way of new fronts.

THE small mill of Messrs. Zug & Co., including the nail department and twelve puddling furnaces, started up last Monday, and the large mill will start up full next week.

THE puddlers at the Sligo Iron Works are still out because the proprietors will not sign the scale. These are "scaley" times to sign a scale, when no one knows what a day may bring forth.

CHARLOTTE FURNACE, Everson, Knapp & Co., is now regularly producing forty tons of excellent iron; it is classified as Nos. 1 and 2 forge iron, and our mills who have been so fortunate as to get any of it, speak warmly of it.

THE "old" mill of Messrs. Lindsay & McCutcheon, recently burned, is to be rebuilt of iron, Messrs. Reiter & Conley having the contract. The puddling furnaces and machinery will start up this week, under temporary shelter.

MR. A. G. HATRY reports 1,000 kegs of nails shipped recently to Cuba, and a large shipment of merchant iron to California. His business within the past three weeks indicates an improvement in the iron trade. Orders are still coming in from a distance.

THE butt weld gas pipe mill of the National Tube Works, McKeesport, lately destroyed by fire, is being rebuilt by Wm. B. Scaife & Sons, of this city. The new structure will be fire-proof, the frame work being composed of shaped irons and covered with corrugated iron.

ARMSTRONG & HUTCHINSON, machinists, Allegheny City, have a contract for three new stationary engines and a line of five-inch shafting for a firm in this city. These works have been a little dull during the summer, but business is coming in now, and prospects are fair for a good business this fall.

THERE have been 1,253 miles of railroad built this year up to the 1st inst., against 614 miles during the corresponding period last year and 962 miles in the first eight months of the previous year. This is encouraging to our rail manufacturers, especially those who make steel rails.

HAY, SHINKLE & MILLER'S business has so increased recently that they have to add twenty more hands to their works. They are manufacturing turbine water wheels and machinery in general, among which may be mentioned the castings and fittings for A. Hafner's improvement for preventing blacklash in machinery.

THE Culmer Spring Company, Pittsburgh, have been awarded the contract for both draft and bearing springs, a full equipment on 200 cars, for the Chicago, Pekin and Southwestern railroad. The works are running full and steadily on current orders. This firm has a fine display of springs at the Centennial Exhibition, as noticed in a former issue of this paper.

THE foundry and machine shops of Hay, Shinkle & Miller are running full on orders for grist and sawmill machinery and turbine water wheels. Two of these wheels, with a large lot of other machinery, are being made ready to ship to Salt Lake City. They are the only parties in this city who keep for sale the German Anchor brand belting cloths for flouring mills.

LARGE plate of cast steel. On Wednesday, the 30th of August, there was rolled at the Black Diamond Steel Works of Park, Bro. & Co., a plate of cast steel of the following dimensions: 28 feet long, 42 inches wide by ¾ of an inch in thickness, weighing 3,075 pounds. The plate was a very perfect one, and was rolled from the ingot to the dimensions named, on one heat. It was sent to Philadelphia.

IN MEMORIUM.

Meeting of the Members of the Bar to Take Action Relative to the Death of J. D. Marvin, Esq.—Resolutions, &c.

A meeting of the members of the Bar of Allegheny county was held in room No. 1 of Common Pleas Court No. 2 yesterday at 4 o'clock P. M., to take action relative to the death of J. D. Marvin, Esq., who was drowned at Cape May Tuesday, the 5th inst. The meeting was organized by calling Hon. J. P. Sterrett to the Chair, with John Barton and Archibald McBride, Esq., Vice Presidents, and A. J. Barton and J. A. McQuaid, Secretaries.

Judge Sterrett on taking the chair announced the object of the meeting, referred in a feeling manner to the untimely death of Mr. Marvin, and spoke in the most commendatory terms of his excellent moral character and high scholastic attainments.

On motion of W. D. Moore, Esq., a committee of five was appointed to prepare a minute or resolutions expressive of the feelings of the members of the bar relative to the death of Mr. Marvin. The following named gentlemen composed the committee: W. D. Moore, Thos. M. Bayne, John A. Fox, Jas. W. Murray and John R. House, Esqs.

The committee retired to an adjoining room, and after a few minutes absence, returned and reported the following

MINUTE:

The bar of Allegheny county has received with profound sorrow, intelligence of the unexpected and tragic death of John D. Marvin Esq. The time and mode of that death are well calculated to awaken our sympathy for his bereaved and afflicted relatives, and to deepen and intensify our own regret. In the happiness of release, for a time from labor and in the full flush of a bright and promising youth, he was snatched in a moment and without warning from the light of life to the darkness of death. It is pleasing to recall now the exceptionally pure, modest and Christian life which he led among us, and which justly entitled him to our affection and respect. His careful preparation for his profession under the tuition of one of the most able members of the Bar—his thought and scholarship and his diligent and studious habits gave just assurance that had his life been spared he would have done honor to his profession. His scrupulous integrity, his modest and gentle manners had already secured, and would surely have retained, the confidence and regard of all who knew him. We extend to his bereaved family our sincerest sympathy, and rejoice to know that his conduct and character were such as to give them that best of all consolations, the assurance that he has passed from this earthly life to a higher and better one, and that although here they may never look upon his face they will in joy again behold him in that day when the earth and the sea give up the dead, and whilst we cherish their memory of his upright and exemplary life, and hold it up for the instruction and example of others, we feel that this death is peculiarly full of solemn warning to us all of the rejected yet always forgotten truth of life's uncertainty, and that our most sacred duty is so to use it that we may be prepared to surrender it at any moment without fear and without regret.

Mr. Moore in presenting the report of the committee made a very able and fitting address, in which he highly eulogized the character of the deceased, and spoke of his scholastic attainments as well as of his many virtues in the most forcible manner. He was followed by Col. Bayne, Gilbert McMasters, John A. Fox, J. W. Over, J. L. Culbertson, Jas. Cook, Wm. Byrnes and Thos. M. Marshal, Esqs.

On motion the Secretaries were directed to have the proceedings entered upon the minutes of the several courts, and to send a copy of the minute properly engrossed to the family of the deceased.

On motion adjourned.

A QUICK ARREST.

Quite a Robbery on Anderson Street, Allegheny—The Thief Apprehended Within an Hour After the Crime—Recovery of the Valuables.

Mr. William Paul is a grocer, doing business at the corner of Anderson and Isabella streets, Allegheny, near the Hand street bridge. He lives in the same house that contains his store. In another part of the dwelling resides Mr. Wm. Anthony and his wife. About five o'clock last evening all were at supper. Taking advantage of their close attention to the satisfaction of hunger, a sneak-thief entered the building through a door that opens on an alley in the rear of the house. From Mr. Paul he stole two coats, a white vest, a fine gold watch of English manufacture and a gold chain. From Mrs. Anthony he pilfered a pair of gold bracelets, a gold chain, a gold locket, a pair of gold sleeve buttons, a costly fan, a pocket-book, and two gold rings, one of which was prized more than ordinarily high because it encircled Mrs. Anthony's finger on her wedding day. The robbery was discovered immediately after supper, and Mr. Paul lost no time in proceeding to the Mayor's office and placing the detectives in possession of the facts. The officers were equally as prompt in instituting measures for the apprehension of the thief. Mr. Paul, accompanied by Detectives Scott and Bowden and Lieutenant Jerry Smith, crossed the Hand street bridge to Pittsburgh. At the corner of Ninth street and Duquesne Way they separated, to meet again at the post-office corner, at Fifth avenue and Smithfield street. Scott and Smith walked down Duquesne Way to Sixth street, and up the latter and Fifth avenue to the postoffice without encountering anyone at whom the finger of suspicion could be judiciously leveled. They were standing together at the rendezvous waiting for Mr. Paul and Detective Bowden to come up, they having stopped in the pawn-shops on the way, when a fellow passed by with a sneak thief look and a white vest on. Without knowing him to be the person who purloined Mr. Paul's valuables, Detective Scott intuitively recognized him as such and grabbed him. "I want you," said the officer. "What do you want with me?" he replied. "That don't make any difference. Just come along quietly and peaceably," was the information vouchsafed him. Jerry Smith took the other arm and between the two he was escorted down Fifth avenue. On the way they met Messrs. Paul and Bowden and the former instantly recognized his garments. "That is my coat, and that is my vest also," he confidently asserted. "And, by the way, my watch and chain ornaments my vest, too." In a store on Sixth street the officers stopped and searched their prisoner, and on his person they found every article that he had stolen except one of Mr. Paul's coats. The fellow was taken to the Allegheny station house and locked up. He declined to give his name, but the name of G. Conway is picked in India ink on one of his arms. His arrest was compassed within an hour after he had committed the robbery, and it is a credit to the officers who had the matter in hand. Such displays of detective shrewdness and enterprise are always commendable. As the stolen valuables were all found in Conway's possession, his Penitentiary prospects are good.

The police have also discovered that two other robberies, small ones, were recently committed in this locality. The grocery of J. C. Barr, at No. 49 Anderson street, was robbed on Sunday, by small boys it is supposed, of a small quantity of tobacco, cigars and candy. They got in by the back way. Mathews' store, at Grantham and Lacock streets, was robbed on Tuesday morning early, but the goods taken were not very valuable.
